School Board Expected to Stiffen Penalties For Drug or Alcohol Possession by Students

Harsher penalties for students who use alcohol or drugs were expected to be approved by the Princeton Regional Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night (October 22).

Any student caught selling drugs would face immediate expulsion proceedings on a first offense. Students found possessing drugs or alcohol would be subject to expulsion on a second offense.

The police would be notified for investigation and possible prosecution in accordance with New Jersey law.

Administrative measures to deal with student alcohol and drug abuse have been ongoing in the schools. But they have now been toughened as well as formalized in this new set of administrative procedures.

These measures include an immediate 5-10 day suspension for any student caught possessing alcohol on school premises or at a school-sponsored function, and an immediate 10-15 day suspension for a student found with drugs. In addition, such students face loss of all open campus privileges for the semester and possible loss of extracurricular activities.

Students found with alcohol may also be required to enroll in a rehabilitation program as a condition for re-admission to school. Those caught with drugs may have to enroll in a therapy program for drug abuse and undergo a medical examination by a physician to prove their system is drug-free.

A new regulation offers amnesty from these procedures to alcohol- or drug-involved students who voluntarily acknowledge their problem to a member of the staff or adminstration.

Also new is the edict that seniors involved in alcohol just prior to or during graduation ceremonies will not be allowed to graduate with their class.

Staff members who suspect a student of alcohol use or drug use or sale must immediately notify the administrators of the appropriate school of the details, including the student's name.

The decision to turn unwritten rules into an official set of administrative procedures came out of an incident last spring when unruly behavior on a class trip to New York City resulted in the suspension of 17 Princeton High School

Calton Homes, Township Involved In Preliminary Talks over Lawsuit

Negotiations are in progress with Calton Homes, the Freehold developer whose builder's remedy Mount Laurel lawsuit against Princeton Township has yet to be heard in court.

Gerald Muller of Miller, Porter and Muller, attorneys for the Planning Board, confirms that some exploratory talks with the developer are underway. "But I would underscore that they are quite preliminary," Mr. Muller cautions.

Calton Homes, developer of Montgomery Woods townhouses and Dutch Neck Estates in West Windsor, has an option to buy 128 acres between Stockton Street and Mercer Road just west of Stony Brook. The developer seeks to build 10 units to the acre on the tract, of which houses, of which 20 percent, or 256, would be lower income Mount Laurel housing.

Some 110 acres of the tract is the former White Farm, formerly the Hunt Farm, a portion of which dates back to pre-revolutionary times. This acreage has been zoned RM for the residental market program in the Township's affordable housing ordinance, which mandates a 22 percent set aside for low and moderate income housing. The other 18 acres is the "overlook" from which Washington's troops were first spotted by the British just before the Battle of Princeton.

Mr. Muller is presently heading the Township's negotiating team in its talks with Calton Homes. Township Attorney Edwin W. Schmierer and Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike, who are both co-defendants in a civil action brought by Calton Homes in conjunction with Dravo Corporation, have withdrawn to avoid any charge of conflict of interest. The civil suit, in which the mayor and attorney are charged with violating the civil rights of the plaintiffs in earlier zoning litigation settlement discussions, is before Superior Court Judge Paul S. Levy. Meanwhile, the Calton Homes Mount Laurel suit against the Township and the Planning Board is to be heard by Judge Eugene Serpentelli in Toms River. Judge Serpentelli is one of three judges to hear lawsuits stemming from the 1983 Supreme Court decision known as Mount Laurel II.

Mr. Muller says the matter of density is among several issues being discussed with Calton Homes in an effort to come to an out-of-court settlement. Whatever settlement is reached, however, must be

PCH Nears Agreement To Buy Rt. 206 Land

An option agreement between Princeton Community Housing (PCH) and Dr. and Mrs. Chester Peterson for the purchase of Mrs. Peterson's property on Route 206 is "all but signed," according to Harriet Bryant, PCH president.

Reached on Tuesday, the day after Dr. Peterson had told Township Committee he could not understand why he had not heard from PCH about the property, Mrs. Bryant said that there had been a misunderstanding between the lawyers for the two sides. PCH had signed an option and forwarded it to Dr. Peterson's attorney, she said. The partially signed agreement was not brought to Dr. Peterson's attention because of a technicality, "something about which we were all in agreement all the time," Mrs. Bryant thinks, and thus he was unaware of its existence at the time he made his remarks.

"We've had a good talk today, and everything is fine," she said. Asked for some description of the terms of the approved by Judge Serpentelli. The developer seeks a density of 10 units to the acre, although the area has been zoned under the affordable housing ordinance at 3.25 units to the acre. The developer wants a 20 percent set-aside, for 256 lower income units, whereas the ordinance stipulates 22 percent.

Calton Homes proposes to leave 25 percent of the tract in open space, although the affordable housing ordinance requires 50 percent in an RM zone. One of the key issues, therefore, is the amount of open space and where it will be located. Mr. Muller notes that the municipality is particularly interested in seeing that the overlook area is protected, for instance.

Also under discussion is whether Calton Homes will build the lower income housing on this site or on an RH (residential high density) site elsewhere in the Township as is permitted under the ordinance. If the developer chooses this option, the ordinance allows a slightly higher density of market housing on the RM site and requires more units to be built on the RH site.

The developer could also make a cash contribution in lieu of building the lower income units under proposed amendments to the ordinance.

Other topics under discussion, Mr. Muller says, include how the project will look, conceptually, how it will be sewered and whether the Planning Board is willing to "fast track" the application through the approval process.

"I can't say at this point when we will be in a position to sign an agreement," Mr. Muller remarks. "It is much too early to say, and we're not close enough. It would not be appropriate for me to comment on such things as the density," he adds.

He does note, when advised of the letter by a resident in this week's issue (see MAILBOX) that the "notion" of a through road connecting Mercer Road with Stockton Street is under discussion. But he points out that whether or not it is Calton, or some other develnper developing that tract, a through road would be needed, and the only place to put it would be at the top of Bruere's Hill because of the difficult sight lines for cars coming in either direction if placed mid-way on the hill.

Calton Homes is being represented in the negotiations by attorney Henry Hill and a team of planners. Deputy Township Mayor Gail Firestone is expected to take Mayor Pike's place at the negotiating table, along with representatives of the Planning Board and Township staff.

students. Three were given 15-day suspensions for suspected drug use.

"It's clear the kids did not understand how seriously we took this," said School Superintendent Paul Houston, who was expected to present the procedures to the board. "We need to make our position clear."

Dr. Houston said that the use of alcohol is a significant problem. "It's not so much drinking at school, but on the party scene."

"A major part of the problem are those parents who supply kids with alcohol. They feel, 'the kids may be drinking, but they're not using drugs.'

"It's an adult problem in the community, not just a child problem."

As to drug use, the superintendent sees a shift by youth to the more dangerous substances that were around in the sixties, such as LSD. He also sees an increasing use of cocaine.

Selling drugs, he notes, has become more of a business among kids. "Those who are selling are often doing it for entrepreneurial reasons, not to support their own habits."

The schools are also looking at other possible measures to deal with the problem of drug and alcohol abuse. These include the hiring of a counselor or drug use specialist and the formation of a student assistance program. This program would also be geared to helping with other kinds of problems, such as difficult family sitations.

Dr. Houston said the administration is also considering an assistance program for staff similar to the one for students.

"We can't deal with one without the other. If we ignore this, the kids will see it as a double standard. We have to do both."

He added that, while he has no evidence of such problems, he would have to assume that the percentage of school staff needing help would be the same as in any other organization.

"We have almost 400 employees; you have to figure there is a percentage with problems."

Parents to Ask for Hazardous Route Bussing For School Children from University Place Area

A delegation of parents concerned about the safety of their children are expected to ask Mayor and Council to provide hazardous route school bussing in the Borough.

Most of the children involved at this time are students at Community Park School and live in the area surrounding University Place. This includes a number of children in families connected with Princeton University and the Seminary.

The greatest amount of concern has been expressed about children crossing the Mercer Street Extension (the slip of a street in front of TOWN TOPICS) and the intersection of Bayard Lane and Paul Robeson Place (in front of the Y).

A number of months ago, Borough Council agreed to place a "No Turn on Red" sign at the Bayard-Robeson crossing, even though it could not enforce the regulation. It was felt that this would improve safety.

In order to be enforceable, such a sign would have to be approved by the State, and this could take the kind of time that's reckoned in years rather than in months.

However, the sign was never installed, largely because the police felt it was a poor idea to post a regulation that was unenforceable.

The State provides bussing only outside a two-mile radius from the school. Any additional bussing for safety is the province of the municipality, which bears the respnsibility for providing safe access to schools.

There is an ongoing program of hazardous route bussing in the Township. The cost of this is borne two-thirds by the municipality and one-third by the School Board. The bussing costs the Township about $20,000 a year, according to School Board Secretary Judith Ferguson.

Board policy, says Dr. Ferguson, is that hazardous route bussing is not provided when there are crossing guards, lights, and sidewalks. "The main thing is that there be sidewalks and a safe crossing with lights or a guard."

Parents are particularly concerned with the area around University Place, she said, because it is being used more and more as a short cut to Alexander Road.

She stated that there was a parent presentation on the need for hazardous route bussing at a recent meeting of the School Board's Finance Committee. "The committee expressed interest in the parents' concerns and suggested they approach Borough Council with the problem."

School Superintendent Paul Houston believes that the thrust for hazardous route bussing in the Borough opens up a whole series of concerns and questions.

"How fast has the town changed as a result of the bridge closing?" he asks. "Are there factors at work in the community that won't allow old rules to work any longer? Should we ask if our old assumptions are still true given the changing nature of Princeton?"

LOWER DENSITY SOUGHT For Bunn Drive Project. The Planning Board last week asked a Short Hills developer to concentrate the number of office buildings he proposes on Bunn Drive and to consider voluntarily reducing the total square footage of office space planned.

The Planning Board devoted a single evening's work session last Thursday to a concept review of a proposal by Dr. William Lowe for 15 office buildings ranging from 6,000 to 33,000 square feet. At the end of the evening, the board invited Dr. Lowe, his architect Edmund Wilson of the Hillier Group, and his attorney Kevin Moore of Jamieson McCardell Moore Peskin & Spicer to come back with a revised plan for another concept review.

During the evening, several issues were raised which are of concern to the Planning Board. The site, two lots comprising almost 18 acres diagonally across Bunn Drive from Princeton Community Village, is heavily wooded and steeply sloped, particularly in one corner. The two lots are on either side of what would be the extension of Stuart Road, should that road be continued from where it presently ends at Cherry Hill Road. Planning Board circulation maps show this as "Road A," extending all the way to Terhune Road.

Reviewing the proposal, and noting the steep slopes, many trees and huge boulders on the site, Planner Duggan Kimball recommended "a more concentrated approach" to siting the buildings, particularly the six smaller ones scattered over two different areas. He suggested that the applicant pursue with Transco the possibility of using the pipe line for parking, thus making it possible "to stay off" some of the areas he considers unsuitable for parking lots or building.

Set-Back Waiver Asked. Mr. Wilson, in turn, sought an indication from the Planning Board as to whether it would grant a waiver of the 150-foot set-back requirement along the rear of the property. The two lots back onto two homes and a water tower on Mount Lucas Road. Mr. Wilson pointed out that having to observe the 150-foot set-back regulation would mean giving up some of the flattest, most developable land on the tract.

Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund asked whether proposed improvements to Bunn Drive and Harrison Street that were suggested in the 1980 Master Plan would be adequate to handle the proposed development in the office-research (OR) zone. She and others on the board raised the question as to whether developments like the present one should be permitted if a road system able to handle the resulting traffic was not in place.

Professional Planner Duggan Kimball replied: "It is evident to us (the staff) that under a full-build situation in the OR zone, the road system would not be adequate. It is a very, very severe problem." Earlier Mr. Kimball had remarked that "the level of intensity of development in the OR zone is of increasing concern to us on staff level, particularly as it relates to the circulation plan's ability to support the traffic."

He said that a reduction in the permitted floor-area ratio had been discussed at the staff level, but that no recommendation had been made pending the traffic study in relation to zoning that the Township has commissioned Garmen Associates to undertake. That study is expected to be completed in the spring, he said, and noted that 1986 will also bring the mandated six-year update of the 1980 Master Plan.

Both Mr. Kimball and Mr. Wilson pointed out that the total square footage for all 15 office buildings — 129,000 square feet — is less than the 139,000 square feet that is permitted in the OR zone, where the floor-area-ratio (FAR) of building to land is 18 percent. There was discussion of reducing the FAR without waiting for the results of the Garmen traffic study and the Master Plan re-examination.

Mount Lucas homeowners David Bloxler and Scott Nielson each asked the board not to waive the 150-foot set-back requirement. Mr. Nielson said that the set-back is really a buffer between two zones, residential and office research. He also voiced concern that Stuart Road would not be connected all the way through to Route 206 because the state would not permit further cuts along that heavily travelled artery.

More Cars on Mt. Lucas. Instead Mount Lucas, already heavily travelled, would absorb traffic from OR development, he said. He also concurred with the Planning Board suggestion that three or four larger buildings would be an improvement over 15 smaller, scattered offices and would require less blasting to install services such as electricity, water and sewer.

Planning Board vice chair Margen Penick characterized the Lowe proposal as "too much impervious coverage for the site" and said an enormous amount of vegetation would be "scoured off." Mrs. Penick was not enthusiastic about the idea of using the pipe line for parking because trees could not be planted and thus there would be no screening. She also was opposed to granting the 150-foot set-back waiver.

Her colleagues generally agreed with her. Several said they would not like to see the whole development concentrated into two 65,000 square foot buildings, however.

In $200,000 Bail. Michael L. Lenz, the 31-year-old man who highjacked a West Windsor ambulance early Friday morning near the Princeton Medical Center and then held its four attendants hostage at gun point during an eight-hour ordeal, is being held in custody in $200,000 bail.

Lenz, whose last known address is Spotswood, was returned to the Mercer County Detention Center, following a brief hearing Monday before Judge A. Jerome Moore. He did not post bail, but his public defender, J. Stewart Husid, who is representing Lenz, said he may file a motion seeking a reduction in bail.

Lenz has been charged by Borough police with four counts of kidnapping, four of aggravated assault, possession of a weapon for unlawful purpose and possession of a .380 caliber automatic pistol without a permit. Additional charges, including drug possession, have been filed by police departments from West Windsor, East Windsor and Washington Townships

Lenz showed little emotion when First Assistant Mercer County Prosecutor Kathryn Flicker described the eight-hour drama that involved the hostages, members from four police departments, and left behind two wrecked patrol cars and an ambulance.

It began at 12:25 Friday morning when a West Windsor patrolman checked a parked car near the intersection of Jacob Drive and North Post Road. Lenz was a passenger in the car driven by an unidentified female who, police said, was not involved in the chain of events that would erupt.

The officer, in talking to the woman, noticed a syringe in the car and confiscated a small amount of liquified cocaine, Valium and Quaaludes from Lenz.

When a second WW police officer arrived and as the occupants were asked to get out of their car, Lenz grabbed his stomach and chest and allegedly feigned having a heart attack

Lenz was placed in an ambulance that was staffed by four first aid personnel and transported to Princeton Medical Center after he continued to complain of severe pain. The officers followed behind in their patrol car.

Just minutes before the ambulance arrived at the Medical Center, Lenz grabbed a fully-loaded .380 caliber pistol from a shoulder holster that an earlier search by the West Windsor police had failed to uncover. He pointed it at the chest of one of the paramedics and threatened to kill him unless another in the ambulance got out and told the police following behind to stop. He then ordered the ambulance driver to drive from the area.

As the ambulance traveled on University Place, one of the hostages managed to jump out the back door of the moving vehicle. It continued on into a parking lot of Dunkin Donuts in West Windsor Township at Routes 571 and 130 where two more hostages escaped.

After an exchange of food and beverages at a negotiating cite that had been selected, the last hostage was able to escape. Lenz then took over the wheel and continued into Washington Township.

NAMED FOR ACHIEVEMENT: Princeton High School student Allan Caulk is congratulated by Principal John Sakala for being commended by the National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students.

On Route 130 near Meadowbrook Road, the ambulance struck two East Windsor patrol cars and then a utility pole before coming to rest in an adjacent field.

Lenz barricaded himself inside the ambulance. After five hours of negotiations with police, first over radio and then face to face, Lenz was finally talked into surrendering.

NEW HOME IS DESTROYED By Tractor-Caused Fire. A nearly-completed $235,000 home in the River's Edge development off River Road was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning.

A new tractor-bulldozer that had been blackened by flames was found in the basement of the remains. Montgomery Township police believe someone started the $109,000 bulldozer, aimed it at the house and then jumped off. After crashing through the side of the house, the bulldozer plunged to the basement where it hit a gas line which ignited, police theorize.

When firemen from Montgomery and Griggstown arrived at the scene at 5 a.m., the house was engulfed in flames. Only the garage and a brick fireplace were left standing.

The alarm was reported by a passing motorist. Montgomery Township police report that neighbors heard the sound of a bulldozer starting up but thought it was a piece of farm machinery.

The builder of the development is Rick Grosso of R & S Colonial Builders in Belle Mead, who plans to erect 100 homes at the site in the next five years. The home that was destroyed was only the second one built in the development and had not been sold, according to a broker from the John T. Henderson Realtors in Belle Mead.

"It appears to be an in-house theft. The suspects are employees," said Chief Michael Carnevale.

The previeus night, semeone removed an envelope containing $590 from a desk drawer in an office in a second Nassau Street restaurant. There were ne signs of forced entry into the office and Chief Carnevale reported that the investigation in both thefts is continuing.

He declined to identify the restaurants "because of the nature of the investigations."

Last week in an overnight theft, $100 was stolen from an unlocked file drawer in a office in the 32 Nassau Street building. Again, no forced entry.

Between 10:30 Sunday night and 6:33 the next morning, semeone entered Larry's Suneco station on Nassau Street without force and took $50 from a desk drawer that had been pried open. Chief Carnevale reported that the station's cash register had also been pried open but it was empty.

A university student's purse left unattended in a coat room in the Cap and Gown Club on Prospect Avenue yielded $6 cash from a wallet and several credit cards. A suspect in the 12:30 to 6 p.m. theft Monday is a black male in his early 20s wearing a red sweat suit.

When he returned the briefcase was gone. Inside were items valued at $495, including a micro cassette dictating machine and a leather binder.

When a New Brunswick resident parked his van on Hulfish Street last week he left it unlocked. That was a mistake. Stolen from the van was camera equipment valued at $918, including a Nikon camera and $189 lens.

An AM-FM cassette player and equalizer worth $45 were removed from the dashboard of the car of a Princeton resident while it was parked during the weekend in a Maclean Street lot. Although the car was locked, there were no signs of a forced entry.

Stolen last week from a house under construction in the Russell Estates off Edgerstoune Road in the Township were a threading machine, pipe cutter and oiler and 50-foot extension cord. Police identified the owner as Trico Plumbing, Route 22, Mountain Side.

With Marijuana Possession. Two 17-year-old Lawrenceville residents have been charged by Bereugh police with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Turn Back Clocks

No inspector will show up at your door Sunday to check that you have turned your clocks back one hour, but, if you don't, you will wonder why the football game isn't on yet, be an hour early for church, and forego the opportunity for another hour of revelry Saturday night.

Sunday at 2 a.m. marks the official end of Daylight Saving Time for 1985.

As the officer looked in the car, both suspects were allegedly ready to smoke a marijuana cigarette. Each was found to be in possession of a metal pot pipe and rolling papers. A further check of their car uncovered a plastic baggie containing marijuana.

Both were arrested and taken to police headquarters where they were processed by Borough Juvenile Officer John Reading and later released to their parents. The police charges have been forwarded to the juvenile court.

14-Year-Old Charged. Following his arrest Saturday in a Maclean Street parking lot, a 14-year-old Trenton youth has been charged with burglary and theft, possession of stolen property and possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana.

Ptl. Anthony Federico, who made the arrest, responded to a call of the owner of a truck who reported it had been broken into. Missing were a 35 mm camera, pair of binoculars and watch worth $185 and some drafting equipment.

While waiting for the officer to arrive, the victim noticed a juvenile walking across the lot with his binoculars around his neck.

The investigation by Ptl. Federico revealed that items in the suspect's possession had been stolen from the truck. During questioning, the juvenile seemed nervous, police said, and tried to remove some marijuana from his rear pocket and discard it without being detected.

He was arrested and taken to headquarters and charged. Upon his release, he will be processed by the juvenile courts.

ONE DRIVER INJURED

In Route 206 Collision. One driver was injured in a head-on collison Saturday afternoon between two cars on Route 206 near the intersection of Mansgrove Road.

Kenneth Tomlinson, 51, of Trenton, was taken to Princeton Medical Center for treatment of a neck injury. Ptl. John Petrone Jr. charged the second driver, Raeanne M. Artz, 18, 19 Surrey Drive, Belle Mead, with failure to keep right.

Both cars, Miss Artz's 1985 Chevette and Mr. Tomlinson's 1969 Cutlass sustained extensive damage and had to be towed from the scene.

Miss Artz told police that she did not remember anything before the accident, claiming she was driving along and the next thing she knew she was crashing. Mr. Tomlinson said that he tried to pull to the right and put on his brakes when he realized the Artz car was not going to swerve back into its own lane.

After impact, his car traveled 30 to 35 feet and hit a guard rail before coming to rest. The Artz car continued some 30 feet up a grass embankment.

the other with simple assault.

Herman Hearns, 28, of Plainsboro told police that he had been playing basketball with friends on the court outside the Graduate College and after they had left he went to the other end of the court and began a game of 1-on-1 with the suspect. The game became very physical, he said. The suspect began to assault him verbally and pushed him.

When he attempted to leave, the suspect, whose name he did not know, followed him and continued his verbal assaults and threats. Mr. Hearns reported the incident to Township police and provided a description.

Four days later, he appeared at Township police headquarters with the suspect's name. He was identifed by police as Glenn Loury, 37, West Building, Institute for Advanced Study.

WINDOW IS BROKEN

In Laundromat. A 12-foot window in Peg's Scruboard, the laundromat in the Princeton Shopping Center, was broken early last week by an unknown object. Police report it was broken between 9:30 and 10 in the evening.

Earlier, the outside wall of the Packet Building, 300 Witherspoon Street, and two of its trucks were sprayed with black paint.

Township police report the same letters, OXY and IROC, had been sprayed on the building wall and the two vehicles.

NUT EATER CHARGED

With Shoplifting. A resident of Johnson Avenue in Lawrence Township, Glenn Bethea, 30, has been charged with shoplifting at Davidson's Market on Nassau Street.

The store's security officer, who signed the complaint, told police that Bethea had been observed walking around the store eating nuts which he had allegedly scooped from a nut bin. The complaint charges him with eating a pound of nuts valued at $2.99.

A $150 silk scarf was shoplifted last week from the Ann Taylor store on Palmer Square.

According to police, the suspect was undetected by the busy clerks but was observed taking the scarf by a customer. The suspect, a stocky white female, 23 to 25 years old, then walked to a car parked on John Street, which was occupied by a white male, and the two drove away.

SENT TO WORKHOUSE

For Assault. In Borough criminal court last week, James Tilton, 22 Vandeventer Avenue, was sentenced to 90 days in the Mercer County Workhouse for assault. Judge Russell B. Annich suspended 60 of the 90 days and placed Tilton on a year's probation. He was also fined $25 and ordered to pay $25 to the Violent Crime Compensation Board.

In other charges, Tilton was sentenced to 30 more days in the Workhouse, fined $25 and $25 for the VCCB for harrassment. On charges of malicious damage and trespassing he was fined $25 and $25 VCCB on each.

rector of the United Nations University in Tokyo.

Following graduation from Princeton, service in the Marine Corps and study at Oxford on a Rhodes scholarship, he was with Gallup and Robinson, the Princeton research firm.

In 1957, he was appointed provost of Long Island University's Brooklyn Center and in 1962, when he was 37, he was made president of New York University, the youngest man to hold that position.

'INITIATIVES' PLANNED

With 'Selective Divestiture'. The Princeton University board of trustees has unanimously adopted a report recommending the commitment of significant resources to a set of academic initiatives related to South Africa.

The report also specifies criteria to be used, and a process to be followed, in considering the possible selective divestiture of securities in a particular company or companies. At the same time, the Trustees reiterated their view that general divestiture by the University " is not effective or appropriate."

The action was taken at the board's regular October meeting, on the recommendation of its policy and budget subcommittee and a special steering committee which met six times during the summer and early fall, and held discussions with faculty, students, and fellow trustees, following its establishment by the board last June.

The academic initiatives are intended "to contribute in affirmative ways to improving the long-term prospects for South Africa through the Univerity's central mechanisms: teaching and research." They include interactions with South African universities, support for sabbatical leaves and research projects for Princeton faculty interested in South Africa, and an expanded, preferably national, mid-career program for non-white South Africans, along with a possible companion program for "senior fellows" from South Africa.

With respect to selective divestiture, the trustees stressed their fiduciary responsibility "to achieve the best possible return on the investment of endowment funds," but also noted that "the University has concerns that extend beyond the discharge of fiduciary responsibility, and there may be unusual situations in which the University simply does not wish to be associated with a particular company through ownership of its securities.

'Selective divestiture' refers explicitly to situations in which the University elects, for non financial reasons, to sell the securities of specific companies and to instruct its investment managers to make no new purchases of such securities."

Given the purpose of divestiture — "to decline an institutional association between the University and a company" — the report recommends that "any decision to exclude the securities of a company from the University's portfolio would be accompanied by a trustee decision not to solicit gifts from the company."

SPECIAL TAX DISTRICT

On Council Agenda. Heading the agenda for the Thursday, October 24, meeting of Borough Council is an appearance by Lawrence O. Houstoun Jr., of The Atlantic Group in Cranbury. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. at Borough Hall.

Atlantic is the consulting firm that might be hired by the Borough to develop the CBD as its first special assessment district.

Councilman Irv Urken has suggested that the Borough consider setting up such a zone in which property owners would be assessed extra taxes. These revenues could be used only within the special assessment district and could fund such items as advertising, special parking, uniformed security personnel, promotion, and the hiring of an administrator for planning and coordination.

A state law was recently passed that allows municipalities to create such special zones with the goal of providing services that will increase retail sales and expand markets for banking and other services.

REPAVING SET

On Witherspoon Street. Next week is the tentative starting date for the repaving of Witherspoon Street. Borough Engineer Carl Peters said that it's impossible to know the exact date the work will begin because it is contingent on the availability of the necessary equipment.

The repaving will extend along Witherspoon from Wiggins to a point midway between Henry and Guyot. About 25 percent of the area belongs to Princeton Township, which will reimburse the Borough for the cost.

No detouring is planned, but lanes will be closed and a flag person will be utilized.

Last week, the Borough completed the repaving of the Spring Street Park and Shop lot. The funds for this were a part of a capital budget that dates back several years.

DRIVE AT 20 PERCENT

For United Way. The United Way-Red Cross campaign of the Princeton area communities has raised 20 percent of its $1.8 million goal, thanks in part to a strong start by the employees of four area corporations.

The employees of American Cyanamid Company - Agricultural Research Division, McGraw-Hil, Inc., NL Industries and Squibb Corp. raised $138,000 as part of their pre-campaign drives to set an example of generous giving. These companies began their campaigns a few weeks before the general drive began this month.

Area residents are also responding to the appeal and have contributed more than $31,000 to the drive. This represents 31 percent of the residential goal, the highest percentage yet reported by any campaign division.

PLAY READING

At Women's Coffeehouse. The Women's Coffeehouse will feature playwright Donna Spector in a reading from her forthcoming off-Broadway play, Another Paradise, on Monday at 8 p.m. at the Arts Council building on Witherspoon Street.

Potter Martha Wright and quilter Barbara Von Roemer will be featured at the Coffeehouse on Monday, November 4. The two artists will discuss their work and their experiences as members of Transformations, an area art cooperative.

TO HONOR CHAIRMAN

Of New Brunswick Renewal. The MSM Regional Council will hold its annual dinner meeting on Thursday at the corporate headquarters of E. R. Squibb, Inc. in Lawrence Township.

John S. Heldrich

The third annual MSM Community Development Award will be presented to John J. Heldrich for his decade of accomplishment and leadership as chairman of New Brunswick Tomorrow. Mr. Heldrich is also a member of the Johnson & Johnson board of directors and executive committee.

According to Thomas M. O'Neill, chairman of the MSM Award Committee, New Brunswick Tomorrow is New Jersey's most effective private-public partnership, and a model for undertakings in similar areas of public concern.

New Brunswick Tomorrow was created in 1975 as a unique coalition of the public and private sectors and the community. Its goal was to begin to reverse the three decades of urban decline that afflicted most cities, including New Brunswick, after World War II. Mr. Heldrich has been chairman and the driving force behind New Brunswick Tomorrow since its inception.

New Brunswick's revitalization has been hailed nationally as a model of a true private-public partnership. In the first ten years, more than $300 million in new construction has taken place in the city, with a number of other major projects ready to begin.

In addition to bricks and mortar and economic revitalization, New Brunswick Tomorrow has been a catalyst in programs to improve the overall quality of life for the residents of the city. There are programs in employment and training, health care, education, recreation, youth services and family day care, culture and the arts.

The MSM Regional Council is a non-partisan civic planning and research organization with a broad base of citizen and corporate support. MSM has long been an advocate of effective growth management in the central New Jersey region between the Raritan and Delaware rivers.

Admission is $2.50. A complete lunch as well as snacks and refreshments will be available.

This year, proceeds from the boutique will be used for the purchase of additional medical equipment.

COMPUTERS AND JOBS

Is Seminar Topic. The Professional Roster will sponsor a panel discussion on computer-related employment at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, November 7, at the University League Lounge, 171 Broadmead.

High-Density Housing.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I understand that serious negotiations are under way with Calton Homes on their proposed development of the White property which lies between Route 206 and the Princeton Pike and abuts on Stony Brook The number of homes to be built is under discussion, with a range of 600 to 1,000.

Access to the property will be from Route 206 at the top of Bruere's Hill and from the Princeton Pike. Because of the location it can be assumed that many of the units will have two-car families, which will add considerably to an already extremely serious traffic problem on the two roads concerned.

There will, presumably, have to be a traffic light at the top of Bruere's Hill. Imagine what it will be like when the up-hill traffic is stopped by the light on Route 206 in a bad storm or when there is snow and ice on the road. How many cars will be able to start up the hill again when the light changes?

I have lived in Princeton for over 60 years, and I love our town. I am also very interested in Princeton history, and am deeply distressed at the prospect that the site of Princeton's earliest settlement (Stony Brook) is probably destined to become a high-density housing project of minimal quality.

We urge the Township Committee to be restrained, cautious and judicious when it considers giving away an increased density in order to settle the law suit. There are alternatives to a higher density settlement: either transferring to the housing council or going through with the court case, basing our defense on Princeton's excellent record of performance in providing attractive low-income housing over the years.

Princeton residents of both communities will be angry and upset by the further erosion of our community values if a negotiated settlement is agreed to which gives away too high a density, leading to a tremendous traffic impact, loss of an important, historic area, and over-crowded conditions on the site — all this to an out-of-town organization whose interest in our community is limited to the chance to make money by changing our environment.

Can't we have a say in the future of our community through much-needed and stringent restrictions on new developments still in the planning stage? Are the citizens of the Princeton community completely at the mercy of materialistic newcomers and their threats of court action? I have to believe that we must be accorded the right to determine what is to become of our town. Let our voices be heard by all in positions of authority!

Why Single Out the Woman?
To the Editor of Town Topics:

It really ticks me off that in the article about Borough Council candidates (TOWN TOPICS, 10/16) no candidate's spouse is mentioned except Mrs. Bagley's, who happens to be the only woman running.

We aren't so stupid as to vote for someone on their spouse's merits, but on their own merits. And that article was written by a woman, yet! We haven't come so far, have we?

Well Closing Protested.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The proposed closing of the artesian well at the Elizabethtown Water Company pumping station represents a major loss. Many Princeton residents obtain their drinking water from this well, preferring its water to Princeton's tap water for a variety of reasons.

It is our understanding that it would be substantially helpful if persons desiring that this well be kept open send letters to Thomas Cawley, Vice President of Operations, Elizabethtown Water Co., 1341 North Avenue, Plainfield, N.J. 07062, with copies to The Honorable Thomas H. Kean, 25 West State Street, Trenton, N.J. 08625, Mayor Winthrop Pike and Princeton Township Committee members.

Woodbridge Supported
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Incumbent Borough Councilman Dick Woodbridge is again a candidate after giving him community the benefit of nine years of his time and dedicated service.

The councilmen who now serve (excluding Terpstra who is leaving) have served a total of only six years; Huntoon and Urken two years each, and Reid and Trotman one year each.

Without Dick Woodbridge, do they have the experience, the knowledge, the hindsight and the foresight necessary to see Princeton Borough through this period of transition, when many difficult decisions will have to be faced?

MARY PETTERSEN
26 Cameron Court

Correction
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Due to an error in our advertisement in the town Topics of October 16, our advertisement states that Dick Woodbridge was a member of the First Aid Squad. In fact, Dick is a former co-chairman of the Joint First Aid & Rescue Squad Committee.

MARJORIE BOYCE

Clarification Offered
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Thank you for the fine interviews and coverage of the contest for Borough Council. Permit me, however, to correct an impression conveyed at the end of your recent article: that I want to cut the library budget. Nothing could be further from the truth During the interview, I stressed that tough decisions have to be made at budget time if we are to keep taxes from rising. These are "trade-off" decisions between major new or additional funding requests. To illustrate, I cited possible conflicting priorities between additional funding for the library and for street repairs I could just as well have mentioned sidewalks vs trees.

Now that we are on the library, let me take this opportunity to raise an issue which did not come up during my interview: the library's request

I kept gaining and losing the same 20 pounds. Then I said, this time it's going to be different.

I tried every pill, every gimmick to lose weight. Only to feel miserable when I gained it all back. Finally I said no, never again—this time I'm going to Diet Center. I lost the weight, without hunger. And I'm keeping it off.

My only regret? Not going sooner!

for a large amount of money for an automated circulation system. The systems that their consultant has recommended are costly in part because they are complete, largely prepacked "systems". What if the library were to take another path towards automation — to purchase a few microcomputers and gradually automate with volunteer help from some of the computer-literates and university experts who are among the many sources of talents in this talent-rich town? How much would it cost to go this route? As yet, I have not even heard this question raised.

Whether we need to appropriate $400,000, $250,000 or $100,000 in new money for this purpose is an urgent matter for the new Council to resolve, and there can be an honest debate on the most cost effective approach in the mean time.

IT'S NEW To Us

"ANYTHING GOES NOW" explain The Narragansett's manager, Lisa Barbato and assistant manager, Randi Silverstein. Variety and diversity highlight today's styles, and fashion can be fun for everyone.

FASHION WITH A FLAIR

At The Narragansett. "If someone likes fashion, they'll love us!" exclaims Lisa Barbato, manager of The Narragansett. "We have updated, classic sportswear, a real variety of fashionable clothes to suit everyone's taste."

The new shop, located in the Bellows Building at 202 Nassau Street, opened with a flourish on October 11 and is the 22nd in the Narragansett line of stores. Established 80 years ago in Rhode Island, the company still maintains headquarters near Newport, with stores situated all along the East Coast, including Boston, Stamford and Westport, Conn., Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

Princeton was chosen for the site of the new store because, as Ms. Barbato explains, "We look for prime locations, and Princeton is certainly in that category. We hope the store will appeal to the community as a whole, as well as to the students. We feel we offer something for the entire community. There are different tastes for different people, and we try to fill that need."

Ms. Barbato also believes The Narragansett's selection will appeal to all age groups. "Kids 16 and 17 will enjoy our store as well as people right on up into their eighties. An 85-year-old lady came in all the time in our Providence store — she was a young 85! — but many ages can appreciate our styles."

Sophisticated But Casual. Indeed, The Narragansett features a wide selection of sophisticated but casual clothes, distinguished by an intriguing variety of colors and fabrics. The clothes are predominantly separates — mix and match is the hallmark of The Narragansett. Skirts and blazers, slacks and sweaters, blouses and scarves are the order of the day. Sizes run from 4 to 14, and the majority of the merchandise is the store's own private Narragansett label. I.B. Diffusion, Liz Claiborne, Willi Wear and Danny Noble are among the other labels carried.

Accessories include jewelry ("all high quality, natural substances — real beads, stones, wood, hand-painted designs", notes Lisa.), handbags, hats, gloves, belts, knee socks and pantyhose. Stuffed teddy bears and James Beard cookbooks are also available.

Enthusiastic both about fashion and the new store in Princeton, Ms. Barbato, though only 23 years old, has been involved in the retail field for seven years. While still in high school, she began her career when she went to work in a Rhode Island specialty shop, eventually rising to the position of superviser. Three years ago, she joined The Narragansett in Providence, starting as a salesperson, moving on to assistant manager and now manager. "I'm very excited to be here and to start my new position. I love fashion, and I love to help customers find the right outfit. There is nothing else I'd rather be doing," she declares.

Ms. Barbato is not one to stay behind a desk either. "I like to mix and mingle, to be out on the floor and help people," she says, adding, "I want customers to know that we are here to help them. For instance, we'll help them update a favorite outfit if they want. Match it with something new, to give it a newer look."

"Most of all," she continues, "I don't want people to hesitate to come in. We want customers to know it's a comfortable atmosphere here and to feel free to ask questions about fashion. I want them to know that we'll help and that we want to help."

Friendly Atmosphere. Such a view of The Narragansett's attitude is reinforced by Director of Visual Merchandising, Gary Presnal, of the Rhode Island office. "What really makes this store special is its non-intimidating environment as a place to shop. We pride ourselves on customer service and a friendly atmosphere."

This is especially helpful when today's styles are marked by such diversity and variety. The customer might well feel a bit daunted by such an array of choices, especially in the mix and match categories.

"People are dressing more for themselves now," reports Ms. Barbato, "but it does help to have a fashion sense to put all of this together or else get help from the people in the store. That's what we are here for. It's personalized service. I think we are a little different than the other stores in this sense."

"All colors are in," she continues, "both brights and muted. Different length skirts are being worn. We have long to mid-calf as well as knee length. It's a new look. There's such variety. You can wear printed scarves with printed skirts, if you want to. It's best if they have similar colors. Bigger tops and oversized sweaters are also popular."

The Narragansett prices depend on the style and the quality but on an average, sweaters run from $45 to $200 (vests $30), slacks from $50 to $150, blazers from $100 to $250, skirts from $68 to $150, dressy blouses $60 and up, shirts $38, scarves from $16 to $50 and jewelry from $24 to $70.

Ms. Barbato is very encouraged by the response of customers so far. As soon as the ribbon cutting ceremony FACE THE FUTURE WITH A FACIAL from Eva Korzeniowski. Her experience and expertise can help provide you with a variety of skin and nail care.

LOOKING YOUR BEST

At Eva's Nail & Skin Care Studio. "I like to help beautify women," observes Eva Korzeniowski, proprietor of the new nail and skin care studio at 227 Washington Road. "I like to help them feel and look better. If I see that a woman is tired, it pleases me to help her and also to help her see that she needs time to relax."

Her studio, which opened in August, provides facials, manicures, pedicures, waxing (body hair removal with wax), eyelash and eyebrow dyeing and will later offer make-up application.

Facials, which are becoming more and more popular in the United States, "are a very old tradition in Europe," explains Eva, who is from Poland. "People in Europe were very used to caring for their skin in that way, and now it's growing very much in this country. American women work very hard, and it's fantastically relaxing to have a facial as well as beneficial to the skin. The European influence is still very strong, and many of the cosmetologists are from Europe."

Eva received her training in Poland and obtained a license as an esthetician (similar to a cosmetologist). For a time, she also performed professionally as a jazz singer and occasionally today still finds time to sing in Polish clubs in Philadelphia and New Jersey. Twelve years ago, she and her husband, Kris, and daughter Joanna, immigrated to Canada where they lived for six years. When her husband was offered a job as coach of the Princeton University rowing team, they moved to Princeton. Eva worked at Bamberger's and Artistic Hairdressers before setting up her own studio.

"Working for yourself is a big step" she admits, "but it's really the American dream to have your own business. I'm very encouraged so far. It's been very busy."

Eva's customers include men ("They want to look nice, to have clean skin. They don't want wrinkles."), women and teenagers, although the majority are women. Facials, manicures and pedicures are the services most often requested, but waxing and eyelash and brow dyeing are becoming more and more popular. Separate rooms in the attractive, modern studio are set aside for facials, pedicures and waxing. Facials are $30, manicures $8 and pedicures $18.

If you decide that the summer sun, not enough sleep or too many candy bars took their toll and that you could benefit from the studio's skillful services, specifically a facial, you should plan to set aside at least an hour for the treatment.

Relaxation Key. Relaxation is the key, as the client reclines on a chaise longue, and Eva first cleans the face with a milk cleanser. The face is also massaged, and if necessary, a peeling cream or scrub can be used if the complexion appears sallow or is marked by noticeable amounts of dead skin. Next, the face is steamed for ten minutes, a procedure which further cleans the skin, softens the tissues and opens the pores. Eva then removes any impurities such as blackheads or whiteheads, and then applies an astringent, followed by herb oils, depending on the skin type, and then sea water.

A massage is next, designed to relax the client even more and also to speed up circulation and bring oxygen to the cells. An important part of this massage includes lymphatic drainage. Lymph is helpful in removing impurities from the system, and by means of the special techniques of this massage, Eva is able to aid this process.

If the skin is particularly troubled by blemishes or is excessively oily, she might decide to treat it with the D'Arsonval Apparatus, a special device designed to prevent bacteria from spreading and thus discourage further blemishes.

The next step is application of a mask which stays on until it dries, usually about ten minutes. Again the type of mask is determined by skin type, although all of the masks are made of various algae.

The final treatment consists of more herbal oil, sea water and a protective cream. Eva suggests that customers avoid applying make-up for an hour after the facial.

The products Eva uses for her skin treatments consist of extracts from herbal plants and also those from the ocean. It has long been thought (back to the time of ancient Egypt and ancient Greece) that such products have a highly beneficial effect on the skin. Eva agrees and uses a line of products from Flor Spa, some of which are available for sale to customers.

She suggests following a regular routine at home, supplemented with monthly facials, if possible. She discourages the use of soap. "Americans are crazy about washing themselves," she laughs. "I've never seen such dry skin as here. Soap dilutes the body oils whenever you take a shower." She advises using a cleansing cream instead.

Although the days are long and the work hard, Eva finds the work fulfilling. "One day a girl called after seven and asked if I could do a facial. I was tired, but I said I would. She'd had a hard day and was so grateful that I felt very happy I could do it for her. In fact, I love doing this. I know that I can help women, and it's very satisfying."

Eva's studio is open from 8 to 6 Monday to Saturday, and 8 to 9 Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Call 987-9090 for an appointment.

CHANGES POSTPONED

To Housing Ordinance. Township Committee has postponed for a third time voting on a set of amendments to the affordable housing ordinance.

With Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike on vacation and Deputy Mayor Gail Firestone sitting in his seat, Committee would have needed affirmative votes from all four members present to adopt the proposed amendments, because one section of the amendments had been officially challenged. Dr. and Mrs. Chester Peterson, owners of a 26-acre tract in the RH (residential high density) zone, filed a formal protest against the repeal of the median-priced housing option in the RH zone, one of the amendments under consideration.

Committee also postponed action on the amendments to give William Sutphin, the Peterson's attorney who was unable to be present Monday night, the opportunity, as he requested, to make his case for keeping the option. According to housing consultant Alan Mallach, the median-priced housing option was put in place in 1979 or 1980 in response to Mount Laurel I. Median-priced or "least cost housing," pegged at around $85,000 a unit, would not qualify for Mount Laurel II lower income housing, in his view. Moreover, having it as an option would hinder rather than assist the generation of such housing on the RH sites, he suggests.

The Planning Board recommended repealing this option at the time the affordable housing program was adopted in November 1984 as an ordinance. But a last minute, strongly stated appeal by Mr. Sutphin to Township Committee on a night when none of the housing consultants were present swayed Committee to rescind the repeal as it was voting the ordinance.

Other Amendments. In addition to deleting the median-priced housing option, the present set of amendments would permit at-the-market housing in the RH zone in place of middle income housing. As presently constituted the RH zones may be developed at an underlying density of two units to the acre, or they may be developed by the Princeton Housing Trust Fund or another developer for Mount Laurel housing at 50 percent lower income units, 50 percent middle income units.

Mr. Mallach believes that lifting the ceiling of the 50 percent middle income units to market rate units would enable the lower income housing to be created at no cost to the Township. Middle income units would have involved a Township subsidy of the lower income units.

Still another change would permit a developer to give the Township or the Housing Fund cash or land in lieu of constructing lower income units. The amendment provides a schedule for these payments and a formula for reckoning land contributions, which would be used exclusively by the Township for its affordable housing program. The purpose of the amendment is to give the Township some flexibility in managing the program.

Committee will continue the public hearing on these technical amendments to the affordable housing ordinance on Thursday, November 7. Committee will meet Thursday that week, rather than Monday, the night before the election. Meetings begin at 8 and are held in the meeting room through the Witherspoon Street entrance to the Valley Road building.

Move to Council? In another action, related to Mount Laurel, Committee unanimously adopted a resolution to notify the Council on Affordable Housing of its intention to submit its housing plan to the Council. The Council was set up under state legislation signed by Gov. Kean on July 2. It gave municipalities four months from that date to "notify intent" to submit their housing plans so that future Mount Laurel litigation brought by a developer could be heard by the Council rather than in the courts.

The Township has not yet decided, according to Planning Board Attorney Gerald Muller, whether to seek a transfer of the Calton Homes-Dravo Corp. Mount Laurel litigation from Judge Serpentelli's court room to this new Council.

Committee had a full agenda Monday night and did not get to a discussion of making a change in the affordable housing ordinance as it relates to a fee required of new development. Representatives of Tenacre Foundation and the Hun School were both on hand throughout the long meeting, because both seek a waver of the affordable housing fee that would be assessed on the basis of new construction that each is about to undertake.

Both base their request on the fact that the proposed construction would not add to the population at their respective institutions and thus would not add to the housing needs of the community.

Endorses Nuclear Test Ban. With little discussion, Committee unanimously endorsed a resolution supporting a comprehensive nuclear test ban treaty. Committeeman William Cherry spoke on behalf of the resolution, calling it "a good step forward, a little step for an enormous objective."

Committee also agreed to a proposal that some $3.1 million worth of accumulated short term loans for various projects and capital improvements be "rolled over" into a bond sale. The opening of bids will take place at the beginning of the regular meeting on November 18.

Mr. Cherry reported that he had had conversation with Gov. Kean on the lifemobile situation and said he found the governor "willing to reopen" the matter with Commissioner Goldstein of the State Health Department, where the new regulations originated. "I propose to go ahead to the extent I can," Mr. Cherry promised.

option, she declined, saying that PCH has "committed" itself not to release information for public purposes until it is time to go before public boards with a proposal. "It would be premature at this time," she says, quietly and firmly.

The land for which PCH has an "almost signed" option is the 26.5-acre Griggs Farm near Hillside Avenue which has been in Mrs. Peterson's family for generations. The Petersons were understood to have been asking more than $2 million for the property

The tract is the major part of a 33-acre RH (residential high density) zone, one of six RH zones in the Township that are expected to produce lower in-

Carol and a few of her enthusiastic supporters

All together now – WO•JO•HO•ITS!

That's Carol – and she's just what your Township Committee needs!

Carol Wojciechowicz. The candidate with the big name and credentials to match. For 25 years she's been a doer, a leader, a vibrant part of the Princeton community.

You may remember her as Co-Chair of the Hospital Fete. Or from the Zoning Board. Or as a PTO President or Girl Scout Leader. Did you know she is also V.P. of a flourishing medical supply company and a Manager of Wall Stadium? Mother to six, devoted wife, a skier, scuba diver, even a balloonist! A charming dynamo.

She also has a point of view – something her opponent obviously and too often lacks. You see, Carol's opponent is now ending a term on the Committee with a distressing record of abstaining on important votes. On allocating funds for Corner House, on appointing a Tax Assessor, on allowing the First Aid Squad to use its own surplus to pay emergency staff, on supporting our Planning Board's policy on S-92 development, on adding $5,000 to the Library budget for extra books and open hours. On all these and other votes, Carol's opponent abstained.

Wouldn't it be better to have someone vote for or against the issue at hand, and willing to say why? Carol will! Township Committee needs her guts, common sense and knowledge of our Town. Vote for somebody who will vote – Wojciechowicz!

come and market rate housing under the Township's affordable housing program. The Petersons have long indicated an interest, as Dr. Peterson reiterated Monday night, "in doing something for the town" on the property, particularly in terms of housing for black families. Mrs. Peterson's family also owned property in the vicinity of Witherspoon and Hulfish Streets, some of which was confiscated during the 1960's redevelopment of the area that eliminated Jackson Street and produced Avalon Place.

Mrs. Bryant says the next move for Princeton Community Housing is to "take a look at how to proceed." PCH, she says, wanted to make sure it had an option on the property before proceeding with planning how to go about building additional low and moderate income housing. The community-wide organization composed of representatives of churches, institutions and interested individuals has pursued the idea of constructing and operating additional units of lower income housing because of what it perceives as a great need for such housing.

In the 1970's, after a long struggle and with federal money that is no longer available, PCH built Princeton Community Village of townhouses and an apartment building for families and individuals with incomes below certain federal guidelines. Early in September, after an equally long struggle, PCH opened Elm Court off Elm Road for low income elderly and handicapped residents or former residents.

AID AFRICARE

By Picking Corn. On Saturday and Sunday Howell Farm will need community support to help complete a project begun last spring. Visitors will be asked to join in the corn-picking party that will hand pick a one-acre crop of corn designated for Africare.

Early in the season, members of the community helped Mercer County 4-H volunteers plant the crop. Throughout the summer, school groups helped cultivate the crop, using the same hand methods that are used in Africa. This weekend's picking will be the last step in the project.

The corn will then be placed in the crib to dry and, after drying, will be shelled and taken to Rosedale Mills for sale. Proceeds from the sale will be turned over to the Africare organization which launched this project in the spring.

The corn picking party will leave the barnyard at 10 a.m. Saturday and noon on Sunday. There will be hot and cold cider for all volunteers.

Activities for children will include a corn cob boat race across the pond, with prizes for the top three finishers.

The Howell Living History Farm is located on Valley Road, one mile east of Belle Mountain Ski Area in Hopewell Township. For further information, call the farm at 397-0449 or the Mercer County Park Commission at 989-6533.

PINGRY NEXT FOR PDS 11 After Loss to Wardlaw. Something happened to the Princeton Day football team on the way to its 5-3 season. The Panthers showed up flat and uninspired against a solid Wardlaw team last Saturday and paid the consequences.

The Rams came out on the field in just the opposite frame of mind, all fired up and ready to play their best game of the season. They did, and scored the first 26 points, before two fourth-period PDS touchdowns made a lopsided game look halfway respectable.

The 26-14 defeat dropped Princeton Day to 3-3, and now it must win both of its remaining two games to achieve that 5-3 mark and improve upon last season's 4-4 finish. The Blue and White will face a good Pingry team this Saturday away.

Coach Jim Walker, who had nothing positive to say about his team's first-half play last weekend, is certain he'll see a better performance against Pingry, and hopes it will produce a victory. Pingry was undefeated in four games before it lost to Pennington two weeks ago, and last weekend it lost, 28-7, to Newark Academy.

However, Walker is discounting the Newark loss, because it had its starting quarterback and another halfback sidelined with injuries. It's uncertain whether they will be ready for PDS.

Regardless of who plays, PDS, which has quite a few players suffering from nagging injuries itself, will have to perform better. It's first half against Wardlaw was pretty much of a disaster on offense and defense. The former didn't cross midfield and the latter gave up 20 points.

After some strong words in the locker room at halftime, the Panthers improved in the second half, but Wardlaw's second team offense still managed another six points. Not until the fourth quarter did PDS finally score some points.

The first six came when Jeff Brown picked off a Wardlaw pass and raced 25 yards into the end zone. A few minutes later, Brown turned in the same trick, only this time the pass was meant for him. He caught a pass from quarterback Tim Howard to complete a 30-yard scoring play.

Scott Haveson, who was used sparingly because he had been sick part of the week, tallied the two-point conversion on a pass from Howard. It was a better week for Howard, who completed six of 10 passes for 77 yards, with only one interception.

EARNINGS FALL SHARPLY

At Applied Data. The slowdown in orders that has put a squeeze on the computer industry has not bypassed Applied Data Research.

The Montgomery Township firm, which has seen its stock drop from a high of almost $40 a share earlier this year to around $16 a share this week, has reported a sharp drop in earnings for the latest three-month period ending September 30. Nine-month figures aren't much better.

Operating revenues increased almost $6 million in the latest quarter to $39,316,000, but net earnings were only $228,000 or three cents a share versus $4,422,000 or 45 cents a share for the corresponding period a year ago.

For nine months, revenues jumped $20 million to $103,739,000, but the firm reported a net loss of $2,344,000. Last year's nine-month earnings were $4,570,000. Per share, that's a drop from 80 cents in 1984 to a 37-cents a share loss for the first three quarters of '85.

Still in all, the slim third-quarter profit was better than the loss reported three months earlier, and John R. Bennett, chairman and chief executive officer, said the return to profitability during the third quarter reflects an improvement in the demand for the company's products during a period of slowdown for the computer industry.

Mr. Bennett anticipates a strong fourth quarter that will lead to a profitable year overall, but he was not willing to make an earnings projection for the 12-month period.

RISE IN EARNINGS

At United Jersey. United Jersey Banks' earnings for the first nine months of 1985 increased almost 21 percent to $26.4 million. Third quarter net income rose more than 15 percent to $8.6 million from $7.5 million in the same period last year.

Adjusting for a 3-for-2 stock split which took effect September 24, earnings per share for the nine months were up 13.2 percent to $2.40 from the $2.12 earned in the same period the previous year. Third quarter earnings per share on an adjusted basis advanced to 79 cents per share from the 71 cents per share earned in the third quarter of 1984.

INCOME REPORTED

By Howard Bank. The Howard Savings Bank of New Jersey has announced net income of $5.7 million, or $1.01 per share, for the third quarter of 1985. This compares to net income of $4.7 million, or 84 cents per share, for the same 1984 quarter, a per share increase of 20.2 percent.

The bank's net income for the nine months ended September 30 was $9.5 million, or $1.70 per share, compared to $8.4 million, or $1.50 per share in 1984, representing a per share increase of 13.3 percent for the period

RELIGION

ISRAELI TO SPEAK

At Jewish Center. Yehezkel Landau, the information secretary for Oz ve Shalom, a religious Zionist peace group, will lead a discussion of the present situation between Israelis and Palestinians Sunday at 7:30 at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street.

Mr. Landau, 35, was born in Chile and is a citizen of both Israel and the United States. He is a graduate of Harvard University, magna cum laude in social relations, and of Harvard Divinity School, where he specialized in Jewish-Christian relations before immigrating to Israel in 1978. There he continued his studies at the Jerusalem Academy of Jewish Studies.

Mr. Landau became program coordinator for the Israel Interfaith Association in Jerusalem which fosters greater understanding among Jews, Christians, Muslems and Druse. In 1982 he became the information secretary for Oz ve Shalom ("strength and peace"), a movement of religious Zionists founded in 1975 in the belief that "Israel, as a Jewish state, must be faithful to Torah values and principles, especially peace, justice (for all people, not just Jews), and the sanctity of every human life." The organization opposes the exclusivist territorial ideology of some other religious groups in Israel.

Mr. Landau will also speak Sunday at Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street.

TO HOLD FORUM

On South Africa. What should the U.S. government, the American churches and citizens do about South Africa?

This question will be explored Sunday at 11 at the Fall Superforum at the Nassau Presbyterian Church. The public is invited.

Panelists at the forum will be the Rev. David Mosoma, a Presbyterian minister and a member of the United Democratic Front executive committee in Pretoria, South Africa; William P. Bundy, former Assistant Secretary of State and former editor of Foreign Affairs. Mr. Bundy, a Princeton resident, is now a Visiting Fellow at the Woodrow Wilson School teaching a course on U.S. policy toward South Africa.

Also, Daniel W. Purnell, executive director of the International Council for Equality of Opportunity Principles, which has persuaded 120 corporations to adopt the "Sullivan Principles" in their South African operations; the Rev. Peter J. Paris, professor of ethics at Princeton Theological Seminary; and William P. Thompson, member, World Council of Churches central committee and former Stated Clerk, United Presbyterian Church. Mr. Thompson was recently denied a visa to attend a meeting of church leaders in South Africa.

The panelists were selected to present differing views on what ought to be done, according to Lowell Livezey, an organizer of the forum. "Nearly everyone opposes apartheid," Dr. Livezey said, "but they disagree about what — if anything — they or their churches and government should do about it." The superforum is designed to promote ethical reflection on this question.

Panelists will debate such issues as church grants to liberation movements, U.S. foreign policy choices such as the prohibition of loans to South Africa, and the responsibility of corporations doing business there.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

ANTI-WILT SPRAYS AND MULCHES AID IN WINTERIZING EVERGREENS

with Sam DeTuro
Woodwinds Associates

Winterizing Evergreens reduces winter injury. Dieback or browning of tips and branches of evergreens results when roots in frozen soil cannot replace moisture loss through needles to high drying winter winds.

First, says Sam deTuro of Woodwinds, mulches are helpful in reducing fluctuating soil temperatures that lead to winter kill, and also conserve soil moisture.

Second, spraying with an antidesiccant compound will cut down loss of moisture during winter, and prevent harsh drying out of the plants under high winds, as well as sun scald.

Both materials should be applied now, and the sprays on a day when the temperatures are 40° or above. The second spray application is recommended during a few warm days in February. Antidesiccants have largely replaced the old-fashioned burlap protection of shrubs and foundation plantings. Some evergreens, however, such as Boxwood, Rhododendron, Laurel, Azalea and Andromeda, should be tied under certain conditions to prevent ice and snow from accumulating inside and bending the shrubs out of shape. Loosely tie heavy twine around the plants, starting from the bottom, making the loops 6 inches to 1 foot apart.

Township Voters Must Choose Between Wojciechowicz and Cantrill for Committee

Township Voters will have only two candidates to choose from on the municipal level when they go to the polls on November 5.

Barbara R. Cantrill of Rosedale Road is seeking a second term as the lone Democrat on Township Committee, while Carol N. Wojciechowicz, Herrontown Road, seeks the same seat by running on the Republican ticket. Mrs. Cantrill ran unsuccessfully for Township Committee in 1980, a year after moving to Princeton. Two years later, in 1982, she ran again and was elected.

Both women come from politically active families, both have husbands who are business executives, both have raised six children and both have a long history of volunteer and other activities to their credit. Mrs. Wojciechowicz is a lifelong New Jersey resident who has lived in Princeton for the past 25 years.

Particularly active in the Princeton Medical Center Auxiliary, she was co-chair of the 1983 Hospital Fete and continues as corresponding secretary of the Auxiliary board and co-chair of the Fete Steering Committee. A graduate of Centenary College for Women in Hackettstown, Mrs. Wojciechowicz worked in public relations before becoming vice president of her husband Alec's company, a development firm that also manufactures disposable medical instruments. With her mother, the first woman promoter of automobile racing, she manages Wall Stadium, one of the largest stadiums in New Jersey and home of other events as well as car races.

Boston Origins. Born and raised in Boston, Mrs. Cantrill has lived in several areas of Massachusetts as well as in Kentucky and Indiana. Each move was occasioned by corporate relocation; her husband James was with General Electric for many years before becoming a vice president at American Hoechst Company in Somerville, a position from which he is now retired.

Mrs. Cantrill has served since 1980 as an assistant to the president of the New Jersey Senate and as executive secretary of the Joint Appropriations Committee. As a staff member to the senate president, her portfolio includes the Senate Committee on Aging, the Committee on Institutions and the Casino Revenue Fund Study Commission.

A graduate of Goddard College, Mrs. Cantrill earned a graduate degree with honors in public administration with a specialty in finance from Suffolk University. Particularly interested in women's health and family planning issues, among other interests, she established the first family planning program in Central Massachusetts and served as executive director of a program of clinics and public education which served 13 cities and towns.

She was active in the civil rights movement in Kentucky in the 1960's; in the League of Women Voters; in the campaigns of John F. Kennedy, Elliot Richardson, Edward Brooke, Robert F. Drinan and Michael S. Dukakis; as producer and co-host of a weekly television public affairs program called "Women to Women"; in women's political caucuses at the state and local level in Massachusetts.

On Township Committee her portfolio has included the Joint Environmental and Civil Rights Commissions, the Committee on Aging, the Welfare and Transportation Commissions and most recently the Historic Sites Committee.

Urged to Run. Mrs. Wojciechowicz says that after being co-chair of the 1983 Hospital Fete, she was asked to become involved in the town's political life. "I thought, 'why not?' This is the right time in my life. I can devote all my energies to it. Having lived here (in the Borough as well as the Township) for 25 years, I am very interested and very concerned about the town and what's happening to it. I want to pitch in and help."

She sees the deer problem as an important issue about which "something has to be done — they've gotten out of hand. The deer are sick and thin. The police report almost 200 deer-car accidents last year, and there are going to be more this year."

Mrs. Wojciechowicz believes in "fixing the sewers fast" and thinks the incentive offered in the Township's sump pump ordinance was "a very good idea." Although she finds some Township residents would like to keep the Harrison Street Bridge closed, she says she is "upset and angry" with County Executive Bill Mathesius — a Republican like herself — for the way in which he abruptly closed the bridge and has not offered an alternative.

She says she will "fight" to keep Route 92 out of Princeton and particularly from an alignment that would "disrupt" the Autumn Hill Reservation and the Girl Scout reservation. The proposal for automating the library is another concern; she thinks it is a good idea but acknowledges it is a lot of money for either the Borough or the Township or the Friends of the Princeton Public Library to fund alone. Perhaps all three can pitch in together to raise the money, she suggests.

In door-to-door campaigning, Mrs. Wojciechowicz finds that taxes are of paramount importance to voters, along with housing and whether or not elderly residents are going to be able to keep their homes. But she sees this issue as one that affects not just the elderly but also the young people starting out and the police, firemen, librarians and teachers who are "priced right out" of the Princeton market.

"To Act Responsibly." Mrs. Cantrill sees Mount Laurel as the major issue facing the Township. She says she will "continue to act responsibly" in regard to Mount Laurel. She says, "It is totally irresponsible for a public official not to read the Mount Laurel document and having read it not to act to hold off the builder's remedy, which was meant as a judicial threat. There is no excuse for public officials to acquiesce to that," she asserts.

She also looks forward, in a second term, to what she calls "implementation of the 1986 Master Plan." By way of explanation she says: "There is some concern about the current master plan. Perhaps some parts (of the town) are not zoned to the satisfaction of some (other) sections of town. This is a hot potato, (involving) forces who want growth — and we are in a growth area." She says she wants to be "part of that discussion."

Mrs. Cantrill says she is particularly proud of having brought the Government Management Improvement Program (GMIP) to the attention of Township Committee and to successful conclusion in a report listing some 106 cost-saving ideas for improved municipal operations.

"We (Princeton Township) went further (in that program) than any other community (that has undertaken the pro-

The Story of Adam and Eve Still Fascinates In Rep Company Production of 'The Serpent'

The Serpent, currently being performed by the Princeton Rep Company, is a production that goes deeper than entertainment, politics or philosophy. As we enter this ominous Garden of Eden, the players are already in place in their tight warm-up circle, working together in a series of movements and sounds that seem to come spontaneously from the ensemble. They are all in black — black t-shirts and black pants — against the white background.

A host of different animals and plants surrounds the group and extends into the audience. A whale, seemingly cut out of cloth, floats high in the air above the group. An elephant reaches up to the branches of a tree. Man-high flowers seem to grow up out of the floor of the intimate theater. A papier mache dog and goat are among the most striking of the fascinating visual images that fill this jungle of Eden, as shadows and slides on the back wall complete the environment.

Why is it that the story of Adam and Eve and the Fall from Paradise continues to fascinate us, though we may have long ago given up believing in its truth. The Serpent, produced by Princeton Rep Company at The Arts Council of Princeton on Witherspoon Street, confronts that profound question in a multi-media presentation of the Book of Genesis, in which an ensemble of 15 performers powerfully fuses myth, religion, recent history and our contemporary experience in a 70-minute series of dreamlike moments.

Could it be, as the playwright Jean-Claude van Itollie suggests, that "the awful guilt of the apple is something every one of us carries around?" This thought-provoking, emotionally disturbing ceremony ("play" would not adequately describe this event) was originally a collaborative production that evolved from a "script" by van Itallie and improvisational rehearsals directed by Joseph Chaikin with his Open Theater group in the late 1960's.

The Princeton Rep production is similarly an evolved creation, the result of movement exercises, improvisation and discoveries directed by

News of The THEATRES

Betty Fenton over the past two months of rehearsals.

The warm-up ends with a group chant, characteristic of the incantatory, non-naturalistic mode of the entire production, crescendoing to the point where the circle breaks apart. Suddenly a loud gun shot and a corpse laid out, accompanied by slides on the back wall, blast us into the setting of the Kennedy and King assassinations of the 1960's.

And in a whirling succession of images — in the set, in slide projections, in the sounds of the actors and the audio tape — we are next transported from the cold, clinical autopsy to the personal despair and isolation of the individual in facing this world of terror. The members of the group in repetitive sequence protest:

I was not involved.
I am a small person.
I hold no opinions.
I stay alive.

I'm no assassin.
I'm no president.
I don't know who did the killings.
I stay alive

Transported to Eden. And then, just as suddenly as we were cast into the middle of the most trying days of the '60's, we find ourselves in the jungle, a lush Eden, rich in sights and sounds, with all production elements coordinating to take us into the primordial garden The ensemble becomes a chorus of jungle animals, with three and then four white-veiled priestesses sitting apart and presenting personal, contemporary reactions to the situation.

These jungle animals gradually merge into the serpent itself, asurging, seething, vociferous pyramid-shaped snake pit, and the five bodies and five pairs of arms and legs intertwine in an unending variety of enticing and suggestive shapes as they offer the apple.

Van Itallie has asserted that "Plays should be instruments to get into people's dreams. If you can get into somebody's dream, that's exciting, perhaps the most profound change you can effect," This play is now clearly on the level of the unconscious. The mythic archetype — the serpent — entraps our imaginations and involves us in its dreamlike form.

The temptation/seduction proceeds. Eve (Anthy Katsiotis) declares, "I will eat because I want to." Adam (Bill Robbins) is seduced by Eve as the serpent watches, and a highly dramatic expulsion scene follows.

First Adam, hoisted into the air by another performer, becomes God to drive the sinners from the garden. It is ourselves, our own sense of sin and guilt, that punishes us, separates us from our paradise of innocence.

Then the cry is taken up by the chorus, transformed from serpent into Gods: "Henceforth shall you thirst after me." The accusations ring out, "Accursed, accursed, accursed," with the chorus directing its malediction first at Adam and Eve, then at fellow members of the ensemble, and finally and most dramatically at us in the audience.

Back to the Present. From there we are thrown into a welter of random moments of contemporary life, as the ensemble processes around the theater, miming the activities, the vanities, the greed of our daily lives, until suddenly we have made a transition into the story of Cain (Rip Pellaton) and Abel (George Cumberbatch).

This first murder, different in its primal, isolated nature from the public assassination, is followed by the passionate celebration of the discovery of love, as the members of the ensemble pair off against the backdrop of the Biblical passage relating how the descendants of Adam begat the family of man, intoned most lovingly by John Counts.

The sexual love and passion merge into marriage, a birth, then into maternal tenderness. Finally, as the pairs re-group into the ensemble again, the chorus moves in a procession out into the audience, and gradually the members sink into decrepit old age, coming slowly towards us as the lights dim. The ceremony is complete.

It is impossible to single out individual performers in an ensemble that works so effectively as a unit. There are no weak links, and all are fascinating to watch from start to finish. In addition to those already mentioned, the group includes Elizabeth Bakos, Greg Clark, Julie Denny, Diane Flowers, Twanna Hill, Paul Kaplan, Jeffrey Love, Ruth Markoe, Wendy Rickard and Catherine Sanderson.

Special mention is certainly due to the creative accomplishments of Annelies Pruisken as set designer and Kees Van Der Knaap for sound and slide design.

Betty Fenton and her Princeton Rep Company succeed in evoking a world that is connected to the immediate present as well as to our imaginative recall of childhood, of the stories of the Garden of Eden, of our questioning of original sin, of the loss of innocence and of our yearning for paradise.

The Serpent, is playing at 102 Witherspoon Street just one more weekend, this Friday at 8:30 and Saturday at 7:30 and again at 9:30. See it. It might just get into your dreams.

'THE 4TH MAN' DUE

At Kresge. Movies-from-McCarter shown at Kresge Auditorium resume Monday with Dutch director Paul Verhoeven's black adult comedy, The 4th Man. The movie will be shown through Wednesday, October 30, at 7:30 and 9:15.

———

The movie's focus is on its paranoid writer-hero, Gerard Reve (Jeroen Krabbe) whose mind is cluttered with symbolic dreams. Reve, who is gay, is seduced by a blonde "femme fatale," and decides to stay with her in the hopes of meeting her handsome boyfriend, in whom he is really more interested.

———

But while scheming to seduce the boyfriend, Reve discovers that the woman herself has had three previous husbands, all now dead. He becomes hysterical, convinced that either he or the boyfriend will be her fourth victim. Is he justified, or merely mad? The 4th Man is a "puzzle movie," replete with symbolism so relentless that the film has the feeling of a feature-length hallucination.

Single ticket admission is $3.25 at the door, $2 for Princeton University students. Discount coupon books are still available at considerable savings. For more information call the McCarter Theatre box office at 452-5200, Monday through Saturday, noon to six.

PRIESTLY CONFLICT

Topic of Play. Mass Appeal, Bill C. Davis's dramatic comedy about the conflict between an established older priest and an idealistic young seminarian, will be the first fall offering of Stage One Productions. The new company, with Nick Procaccino, artistic director, was responsible for Crimes of the Heart and Agnes of God last summer.

Directed by Mr. Procaccino, Mass Appeal will open Friday, November 15, at the Mill Hill Playhouse in Trenton and continue there for three weekends. Herbert McAneney, known to Princeton audiences for performances in Princeton Community Players and other groups spanning five decades, stars as Father Tim Farley. Father Farley drives a Mercedes, drinks the finest wines and avoids distressing his parishioners with any hint of controversy in his sermons.

His well-ordered, complacent view of life is shaken badly when young Mark Dolson arrives at St. Francis Church. Mark is studying to be a priest, but his liberal views on Church teachings have such an impact that Father Farley and his parish may never be the same again. Joseph O. Laughlin, who played the determined young defense attorney in Crimes of the Heart, plays the idealistic young divinity student.

Friday and Saturday evening performances will begin at 8 on November 15, 16, 22, 23, 29 and 30. There will be two Sunday matinee performances at 3 on November 17 and 24. Tickets are $7.95 each on Friday and Saturday. Matinee tickets are citizens tickets are available for the Sunday matinees only at $4.25.

Reservations may be made by calling the Stage One box office at 683-0444. Mill Hill Playhouse is at the corner of Front and Montgomery Streets in Trenton's restored Mill Hill district. Plenty of well-lighted parking is available.

PDS ALUMNUS STARS

In New Play in Trenton. The Trenton Theater Guild is presenting the world premiere production of Jewish Kid, a new comedy by Delaware Valley playwright Bert Katz. Starred in the leading role is Evan Press, a 1979 graduate of Princeton Day School, who was last seen in New York at the Circle-in-the-Square Theatre.

Jewish Kid opened last week for a three-weekend run through November 3 at Mill Hill Playhouse. Performances are at 8 on Fridays and Saturdays, and at 3 on Sundays. Tickets are $7.

Set in Plainfield and Asbury Park, the plot of Jewish Kid revolves around 16-year-old Benjamin Khan, his perception of the world around him, and his attempts to come to terms with being Jewish. Ben's parents are played by Paul Berger and Joyce Heisen, both of Yardley, Pa.

Others in the cast are Thalia Ariel Bowker, Diane Wargo, Christopher Heisen, D.J. Holcombe, Nancy Braverman, Lisa Politi and Ann Grossman.

Mr. Katz, the playwright, has directed.

ALEC McCOWEN IS COMING

As Kipling. The British stage actor, who dazzled Broadway — and Princeton — audiences with his one-man tour de force on St. Mark's Gospel in 1979, will return to Alexander Hall Friday, November 8, at 8 for a single performance of his newest one-man show, Kipling. His appearance is under the auspices of McCarter Theatre.

Brian Clark, the author of Whose Life Is It Anyway? has based this show entirely on Kipling's own prose and poetry, while simultaneously providing a glimpse into the private and controversial life and work of the man who wrote such classics of English literature as

He earned three Tony Award nominations, for his Broadway performances in Hadrian VII, The Philanthropist and St. Mark's Gospel.

Tickets are available from the McCarter box office, 452-5200, noon to 6 Monday through Saturday. Prices range from $9.50 to $12.50.

'THE PRICE' ON VIEW

At George Street. Every path taken in life is another path forsaken, and every decision carries a price.

This truism lends both the title and theme to Arthur Miller's drama The Price, which opens the 12th season at George Street Playhouse, professional theater in New Brunswick. The play focuses on the relationship of two seemingly very different brothers, one a successful doctor, and the other a New York City cop. Meeting for the first time in many years in a crumbling brownstone filled with their father's old furniture, the two discover they share doubts, regrets and unresolved conflicts.

Lauren K. Woods plays policeman Victor Franz, David Bailey plays his brother, Dr. Walter Franz. Carl Don is Solomon and Judith K. Hart plays Esther Franz. The play is directed by Sue Lawless, who directed Children of a Lesser God for George Street.

The Price opens Friday and runs until November 17, with previews this Wednesday and Thursday. Performances are at 8 p.m Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, and 8:30 Friday and Saturday nights. Matinees on alternate Saturdays and Wednesdays are at 3:30, while Sunday performances are at 2:30 and 7:30.

Tickets cost from $11 to $20, with discounts for groups of 20 or more. For tickets on information, call (201) 246-7717.

TWO ONE-ACTS SET

By McCarter. McCarter Theatre continues its Playwrights-at-McCarter series on Monday, November 4, at 7:30 p.m. with two one-acts at Forbes College Theatre, 115 Alexander Road.

The double bill includes Down Deep in New Orleans by Charles Wilbert and Before the Evolution of the Senses by John Reaves. Admission is free.

Playwrights-at-McCarter is a series of new play readings and post-play discussions with dramatists and actors, made possible by a grant from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation. The series incorporates audience, actors, and directors in an open supportive forum in which playwrights can hear and evaluate their own work.

Down Deep in New Orleans follows three seedy and soulful characters as they try to escape from the malevolent forces hounding them down into the lower depths of America. Written in the tradition of O'Neill and Williams, the drama takes a realistic look at three men — all at odds with themselves and society.

Charles Wilbert, the playwright, is an associate professor of English at New Hampshire College. He earned his B.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania and his M.A. from Ohio University. He has written 23 plays which have been produced in California, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, and Off-Off-Broadway. Two of his works have been published.

Before the Evolution of the Senses, by John Reaves, deals with a couple who reunite after many years to share in a verbal sonata of non-communication. Reaves' new twisting of an old theme explores the conflict between need and denial that two human partners yearn to resolve.

Mr. Reaves acquired a Masters in Development Sociology from Cornell University. He also studied film at New York University graduate school.

For more information, call 452-6619.

CARTOONISTS IN PERSON

At Squibb Exhibit. A group of more than 18 nationally known cartoonists, including Henry Martin, George Booth, Sam Norkin and Michael Ramus, will make personal appearances at McCarter Theatre's preview reception of its benefit art exhibit "Cartoons on Stage," Saturday, November 9, at the Squibb Gallery.

The exhibit will feature the work of 68 cartoonists, and celebrates the performing arts, from theatre and dance to circus and vaudeville. The benefit preview reception is open to the public at a cost of $35 per person, and will feature live piano music by Sandy Maxwell, cocktails, and a selection of gourmet hors d'oeuvres.

Other cartoonists who will be present at the reception include Ed Arno, Clarence Brown, Boris Drucker, Mort Gerberg, Sam Gross, Sidney Harris, John Huehnergarth, Lee Lorenz, Michael Maslin, Charles "Taggert" McVicker, John Norment, Peter Paul Porges, Arnold Roth and Bernard Schoenbaum.

The exhibit was organized by chairman Henry Martin in conjunction with the McCarter Associates. Most of the cartoons, specially matted and framed for the exhibit, will be for sale. Tickets are available by calling 452-6122

TO PERFORM 'CRUCIBLE'

At Trenton State. Authur Miller's play The Crucible, a dramatization of the Salem witchcraft trials of 1692, will be performed in Trenton State College's Kendall Hall Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m. and Sunday at 7 p.m.

The play describes the struggle of John Proctor, a simple, hardworking farmer, against the decaying Puritan oligarchy of his time. He is forced to defend himself rationally against the irrationality of religious hysteria. Although set in seventeenth century Puritan Massachusetts, Miller designed the play to mirror Joseph McCarthy's communist witchhunt in the 1950's.

The play is directed by Russell Wiseman of the college's Communication and Theatre Department. Tickets are $2 for the general public and $1 for students and senior citizens. For further information call 771-2126.

The Medieval Music-Drama, "Daniel and the Lions," Stunningly Reconstructed by Ensemble for Early Music

The past twenty years or so have seen a resurgence of interest in music of the Middle Ages. A great amount of scholarly research has been done in this field in an effort to mount stylistically correct modern productions. Frederick Renz has been recognized as a leader in this area, particularly in Medieval liturgical and music-drama. His vehicle for producing these nearly forgotten works is the Ensemble for Early Music (EEM), which he formed in 1974. Princeton University Concerts brought Mr. Renz and EEM to the university's Richardson Auditorium on Monday evening to perform a stunningly staged reconstruction of the music-drama Daniel and the Lions.

The plot is based on the Old Testament story of Daniel. Beginning with the mysterious prophesy of Belshazzar's doom, the drama tells of his defeat at the hands of Darius. Darius' subsequent self-deification, Daniel's condemnation for worshipping his Judaic God, his rescue by an angel, and Darius' conversion. To tie this in with Medieval Christian liturgy, Daniel then prophesies the coming of Christ and (with no accounting for time frame) an angel announces the Messiah's birth.

Invariably, when one is dealing with something as old and nebulous as the twelfth-century manuscripts on which this production is based, certain questions arise in regard to performance practice: is the music-drama to be performed in the context of a liturgical service or as a special event? How far should one push the dramatic elements? What about the use of instruments?

Mr. Renz began to solve these problems by using what he called "informative imagination," combining scholarship with good dramatic sense. In addition to using the oldest known source of the play, he worked from W L. Smoldon's transcriptions of these manuscripts and from iconography of the period (for instrumental references). He also took into consideration the festive nature of the play, its use of popular melodies of the day, and the text, which combined Latin and Old French. Given the prevalence of secular elements, Mr. Renz reasoned that such a music-drama would be more likely used for entertainment purposes than for expansion of the liturgy. On these grounds, he made the present production as dramatic as the limits of good taste would allow.

Medieval Instruments. In short, it worked, and it did so splendidly. The music was performed largely as unaccompanied melody interspersed with organum (voices moving in parallel fifths) and occasional instrumental doublings and drones. The instruments themselves were a colorful array of Medieval timbres: shawm, hammered dulcimer, lute, various pipes and recorders, a hurdy-gurdy, drums and a bell carillon. The three musicians each played four or five instruments, and were given a sort of "overture" of thirteenth-century French tunes to establish the flavor of the work.

Likewise, the voices were a fascinating blend of uncommonly heard timbres. The cast included operatic tenors and baritones, countertenors and trebles, all of whom sang superbly. Special mention should be made of three outstanding voices. Tenor Jeffrey Thomas (Daniel) and baritone Robert Kuehn (King Belshazzar) both were operatic in style, yet sufficiently agile for these ancient, lilting melodies. The clarion countertenor of Johnson Flucker (Astrologer) was particularly appealing. The boys of the cast, drawn from the Early Music Foundation's Boy-Quire, were exceptional in their purity of tone, perfection of intonation, and musicality.

Staging by Paul Hildebrand, Jr. and costuming by Karen Matthews were both effective and practical. Ralph Lee's set was designed for mobility and advantageous use of space.

Mr. Renz and EEM are to be soundly applauded for combining good scholarship and solid musicality into a lively performance of music too rarely heard. While this is not the only solution to the performance problems of Medieval music-drama, it is certainly one which is viable, imaginative, and eminently enjoyable.

Tiger Football Team Proves It Can Play Like A Winner; Now It's Time to Find Out If Rogerson Can Make It One

The excitement has died down, the recounting of the "what ifs" and "almosts" has ended. Now just one question remains after the Princeton football team's heroic struggle against powerful Colgate that fell five points short, 49-44.

Can the Tigers build on this fine effort and put themselves over the top on any of the next four Saturdays? That's what really would have made the near-miss against the Red Raiders something to remember.

Harvard at Cambridge this weekend, Penn at Philadephia the next, and then William & Mary and Yale home — four opportunities to turn the 1985 season into a really positive experience. Coach Ron Rogerson has the chance to prove himself and his program right now.

SPORTS

He pushed his players to play on even terms against a 14-point favorite. He didn't allow them to quit when they were 14 points behind in the second quarter. Progress has been made; can Rogerson take the next step to turn close losses into victories?

Princeton football fans know all about close losses from the past few years. These defeats piled one on top of another to form losing seasons, and eventually ended Frank Navarro's career here. It may be exciting football, but it doesn't translate into a healthy program.

If the loss to Colgate is but one of seven suffered by the Orange and Black this fall, it's really not going to have been much of a positive experience. The pleasant memories of last Saturday will fade quickly.

How About Harvard? What dividends will the Colgate game yield? Coming up at 1:30 this Saturday in Cambridge is the first test, and it's a good one, too. A 4-1 Harvard team will be favored by several points, but a Princeton victory is certainly not out of the question.

HE HELD ON TO THE BALL: Tight End Doug Struckman was upended on the Colgate two-yard line following his catch of a 22-yard pass from Doug Butler in the third period of Saturday's game. Struckman held on to the ball and Princeton scored its fourth touchdown on the next play. (W. L. Bill Allen photo)

Talk about narrow defeats! Two years ago, the Crimson pulled out a 28-26 victory; last year in Palmer Stadium they snuck away with a 17-15 triumph. Not having won since 1980, the Orange and Black is overdue in its efforts to turn this series around.

This 1985 version of the Harvard football team is very similar to those fielded the past few years by the Cantabs. There's nothing particularly remarkable about it, but coach Joe Restic, now in his 15th season, knows how to win football games. He has won more of them than any other Harvard head football coach.

Currently tied with Penn atop the Ivy standings with a 3-0 mark, the Crimson has gone through its first five games in workmanlike fashion, winning four. Only its first victory was a bit gaudy.

Falling behind Columbia 17-0 at halftime, the Cantabs exploded for 49 points in the second half. They followed that with a 10-3 triumph over Massachusetts, lost 21-14 to a good William & Mary team, and then knocked off a pair of winless league opponents, Cornell and Dartmouth.

Harvard needed a field goal in the final seconds to beat Cornell, 20-17, and did not distinguish itself in a 17-7 defeat of the Big Green last Saturday. But more often than not it gets the job done, and nobody cares how you do it.

Two years ago against Princeton, Restic was forced to go with an inexperienced senior quarterback who had never started a varsity game. Greg Gizzi responded with the best game of his career, and got the job done.

Brian White was a sophomore then, sitting on the bench with an injured arm. He's a senior now, and in charge of the Crimson's varied, multiflex offense that stresses reverses, pitch outs. White is a decent runner, but just an average passer.

His stats through five games, are just barely ahead of Doug Butler's 60-minute performance against Colgate. He has 38 completions in 90 attempts, for 499 yards.

But the Crimson also has all-purpose back Robert Santiago, who leads the squad in both rushing and receiving. Santiago has 320 yards in 66 attempts and has caught 13 passes for 162 yards. He's a constant threat to break the big play.

However, the Tiger defense will have more than Santiago and White to worry about. Last Saturday, Restic let George Sorbara, a junior running back, play a major role on offense for the first time. Playing at either wide receiver, wingback or tailback, Sorbara gained 96 yards on the ground and caught three passes for 31 yards.

On defense, Butler will have to throw against the Ivy League's best secondary, led by safety Cecil Cox and cornerbacks Lee Oldenburg and Ken Tarczy. Cox has four interceptions this season.

And you can certainly expect Butler to be throwing. Maybe not a record 59 times as he did last week, but more often than not. Last Saturday was the first time this season the Tigers passed more than they ran, but this will continue.

They are not going to get points staying on the ground. The running game, despite an occasional burst by Chris Ratliff, who is getting back in form, is making slow progress. Thirty-one attempts against the Raiders netted only 85 yards.

After a performance that rivaled some of his best two years ago, Butler commented: "The whole offense is really jelling, and it's the right time of year. "We're showing that not only can we pass out of the Wing-T, we can score out of it."

And now the time has come to see if the Tigers can post a significant victory out of it.

CLOSE ONE TO COLGATE

Tigers Fail in Final Minute. Four years ago coach Ron Rogerson found out what it was like to give up 44 points and win a game, when his Maine team beat Princeton, 55-44. Last Saturday, on the other side of the field, he discovered how it feels to score 44 and lose.

In both games, 44 points were not enough for a victory for a Princeton team that made too many mistakes and could not overcome them all. Doug Butler completed 34 passes for 438 yards, but his four touchdowns were matched by four interceptions, and those utimately proved to be decisive.

Two were tipped by Princeton receivers into the hands of Colgate receivers, and can not be blamed on Butler; nevertheless, three of the four led directly to Colgate touchdowns. One came at the end of the first half, and enabled the visitors to take a 28-21 lead into the locker room. Princeton had fought back from a 21-7 deficit in the second period to tie the score with five minutes remaining.

The other three came in the fourth period, and helped turn a 38-28 Princeton lead into a 49-38 deficit. One came just seven seconds after Colgate had scored on a long drive to pull within three points, 38-35, with 12:32 left in the game.

It took Colgate quarterback Tom Burgess just two plays from the Tigers' 25 to get the ball back into the end zone and give the Raiders a 42-38 lead. Butler's next interception was reversed when the Tigers' Sean Brennan got the ball back, by picking off a Burgess aerial.

But Colgate's offense was back on the field on the next play when Butler threw his fourth interception of the day, and the Raiders took over on the Princeton 29. With 5:42 remaining, the visitors scored the decisive touchdown to take a 49-38 lead.

Butler rallied his troops once more, and took the Tigers 83 yards in 2:40, with Ratliff scoring from a yard out to close the gap to 49-44. A try for a two-point conversion failed when Butler's pass sailed through the hands of Steve Foster.

An onsides kick also failed, but Colgate gave Princeton a chance to win the game when it fumbled the ball away on the Tigers' 31 after a completed pass had gotten a first down Two minutes remained, enough time for one more drive.

Butler mixed passes over the middle to Ratliff with sideline tosses to tight end Mike Behrman, taking the Orange and Black to the Colgate 18 with half a minutes left. On fourth and four, a pass to Tom Urquhart, who was momentarily open, was deflected away at the last moment by a Colgate defender.

Few would have thought, watching the first 20 minutes of the game, that the contest would go down to the final seconds. Colgate scored fairly easily on its first possession, and then twice more after Princeton tied the score at 7-7 late in the first period.

Burgess mixed the running of sophomore Kenny Gamble, who gained 151 yards, with passes to his superb wide receiver Tom Stenglein, who caught seven for t14 yards and three touchdowns. That plus a punt return of 47 yards for a touchdown (Rob DiGiacomo's punt was low and the coverage was poor) by the Raiders' Brian Carroll, put Princeton behind, 21-7.

But the Tigers scored twice in the next six minutes, as Butler began to find his receivers open. Craig Fitchett caught his second touchdown pass to make it 21-14 and then Ted Fire caught one to tie the score.

Behind 28-21 as the third quarter opened, Princeton scored 17 points, helped by three consecutive Colgate miscues. After an interception by Dean Cain set up the Tigers at Colgate's 27, Butler ran for the first score from the Columbia 2. A 44-yard field goal by Rob Goodwin followed a poor snap from center on a punt that gave the Tigers the ball on Colgate's 28.

Finally, when Matt Heisler recovered a Gamble fumble, Princeton took over on Colgate's 38 and scored five plays later on a 10-yard toss from Butler to Foster.

Unfortunately, there was still one quarter to play, and the momentum shifted almost immediately. Princeton let one golden opportunity to stop a Colgate touchdown slip away when safety Tom Polte failed to gain control of a Burgess fumble on the Tigers' three. The ball went out of bounds.

But nothing should detract from what was basically a very positive effort by Rogerson's team. They matched a superlative Colgate offense, tops in the ECAC coming into the game, right down to the bitter end.

Now it's time for a happy ending.

PHS IS ELIMINATED

From Field Hockey Tourney. Perhaps it was unrealistic from the beginning to expect the Princeton High field hockey team to be a contender again.

Graduation claimed 80 percent of the starters from last year's state championship team, so it comes as no great shock that the Little Tigers, who have been struggling all year behind an impotent offense, were eliminated Saturday in the quarterfinal round of the Mercer County Tournament, 1-0, by Hightstown. It is indeed hard to fight off the sharks, come back and successfully defend one's title the following year. Ask any championship team.

The only battle left for the 5-4-1 Little Tigers this season is to qualify for the state tournament again. To survive, PHS must win this week and post a .500 record before Friday's cutoff date.

It appears it will all come down to a back-to-back confrontation with Nottingham on Thursday. A regular-season contest is set for 3:45 at Nottingham and an opening-season 0-0 tie between the two schools is also scheduled to be played off.

"It seems what will happen in the next few games will decide it," said coach Joyce Jones.

Penalty Shot Decides. The only goal in Saturday's tournament game with Hightstown came 20 minutes into the second half when the Rams' Kelly Maguire went to the line after Hightstown was awarded a penalty shot. PHS goalie Caylyn Tobin managed to get a pad on the shot but couldn't stop the ball from entering the cage.

CAUSING CLOSES IN: Princeton High's white-shirted Aileen Causing and Hightstown player closed in on ball in Saturday's Mercer County Tournament contest. Rams posted a 1-0 victory to eliminate Little Tigers who have never won the County title. (W L Bill Allen Photo)

"I was pleased with every aspect of our game except the one that made the difference: shooting with a capital S," said Jones. "We had five shots in 60 minutes. That's an average of one every 12 minutes. You can't expect to win at that rate."

"There was too much passing," Jones continued. "Again, no one was willing to take the responsibility of shooting. I'm still waiting for someone who has the courage to answer the call.

"Our forward line does not shoot as hard as other teams; it is not as intimidating."

In contrast, Jones said that Hightstown's shots were not only explosive but precise. "Their midfield was very aggressive, very fast. Really intimidating. I think Hightstown has a talented team and a fine coach. They should do well in the County and the states."

Jones praised Tobin for some exceptional saves, several of them from point blank range. Ram coach Dee Dailey concurred, saying that she believed the final score would have been 2 or 3 to 0, if it weren't for Tobin's play in front of the goal. "She made some unbelievable shots."

Jones also cited the play of Liz Hewson, Noel Mann, Kathy Herring and Cricket Jacobs.

The victorious Rams will go on to meet Hopewell Valley, Princeton's arch rival, in Saturday's semi-final round at Mercer Park. PHS will play Hopewell in a league game at home Monday at 3:30.

In games last week, PHS blanked Hamilton, 4-0, for its third straight win, and edged Ewing, 2-1.

All four goals against winless Hamilton came in the second half, two by veteran Aileen Causing and two by Susan Elliott. Against Ewing, Jenny Kim and Ann Tevebaugh both scored in the first half to provide Princeton's winning margin.

4 GAMES, 4 WINS

For PDS Field Hockey. It was a banner week for the Princeton Day field hockey team last week; the Panthers played four games and won them all to raise their record to 10-2. And the banner should be carried by junior Betsy Jaffee who tallied the winning goal in two of the contests, part of her total of five for the week.

Perhaps the most important victory was a 2-1 triumph over Lawrence in the quarterfinals of the Mercer County Tournament last Saturday. That put the Blue and White into the semi-finals against Notre Dame this Saturday at 3:30 at Mercer County.

Just 40 seconds remained in regulation time when Jaffee took a pass from Kelly Noonan to score the winning goal against Lawrence. Her shot from the top of the circle made the difference in the 2-1 triumph.

Becca Royal had given PDS a 1-0 lead seven minutes into the first half, but Lawrence tied the score before the intermission. Elisa DeRochi made seven saves for PDS.

The Panthers, who are used to dominating most of their opponents, were outplayed for a good part of this contest. At one point Lawrence had seven consecutive corners.

"This game will help us in the long run," coach Cheryl Silva commented. "It gave the kids confidence that they can come back after being outplayed."

The previous day, PDS knocked off Dwight-Englewood in north Jersey to remain undefeated and unscored upon in prep competition. Catherine Barone and Jaffee scored. That victory should earn the Blue and White the top seed spot in the prep tournament, which starts October 31.

In addition to the tournament game, PDS will meet two more prep foes, Germantown Academy Wednesday and Blair on Friday. Blair has beaten both Hun and Kent Place.

Peddie, Stuart Blanked. Earlier last week, the Panthers blanked a pair of area opponents, beating Peddie, 1-0, a week ago Tuesday, and cruising by Stuart, 5-0, on Wednesday.

The Peddie match was another of those contests where the Panthers dominated play, had many scoring chances, but could only convert on one of them. Jaffee tallied the winning goal with six minutes left in the game.

The following day against Stuart, coach Silva moved Noonan from midfield to attack, and it took less than five minutes for the strategy to pay dividends. Noonan scored twice in the first 4:45 minutes of play. Jaffee and Jamie Mayer also scored for a 4-0 halftime lead, and Jaffee got another in the second half. Barone and Anna Barrows had assists.

Silva also moved sophomore Scottie King from halfback to midfield, and was pleased with her play at that position. DeRochi recorded five saves on the way to her seventh shutout of the season.

BOYS WIN, GIRLS LOSE

In PDS Soccer. It was an up and down week for the Princeton Day boys' and girls' soccer teams. The boys played just once and won, but the girls lost two of three, including their Mercer County Tournament contest.

Coach Carlos Cara's squad defeated Neumann Prep, 4-1, to raise its mark to 4-5, one game away from respectability. Scott West scored twice, John DeRochi and Steve Giuli each once.

This week PDS will meet Rutgers Prep on Wednesday and Lawrenceville on Friday. The first round of the Prep Tournament will be next Monday, against an opponent to be determined.

The girls began the week well with a 3-0 triumph over George, with goalie Alex Ufford making 22 saves to preserve the shutout. Michele Sternberg tallied twice and Kim Reinhart, once.

Things turned down on Friday, however, when Villa Joseph Marie took a 5-1 decision. The winners led 5-0 after three periods, and only a goal by Reinhart saved a whitewash.

The following day they got worse, when Hamilton roared to an 8-0 triumph in the MCT quarter-final round. The Hornets scored in every period against a PDS defense which was without its regular goalie Alex Ufford.

The Panthers, now 5-4, were scheduled to play Hun this past Tuesday, and then face Germantown on Wednesday and George away on Friday.

PHS IN FINAL FOUR

In Soccer Tournament. Ed Beacham, coach of the Princeton High girls soccer team had this feeling. If his up and down team this year could slip by McCorristin in the preliminary round of the Mercer County Tournament, then he felt his team would have a better than even chance against second-seeded Pennington School in the quarterfinals, even though the Raiders were undefeated. "I don't think the caliber of the teams they play is as strong as that of high school teams," reasoned Beacham.

Although it wasn't easy, PHS did defeat Pennington, 2-0, Saturday and thus advanced to the semi-finals. PHS will oppose once-defeated Notre Dame at 3:30 at Mercer Park and in the other semi-final matchup, Ewing (10-0) will clash with Hamilton.

Lockwood Breaks Deadlock. For three periods in Saturday's battle between PHS and Pennington, neither team was able to score. PHS veteran Booie Lockwood finally broke the deadlock with a long, arching kick six minutes into the final period that sailed just over the outstretched arms of Pennington goalie, Joanane Hermann, and just under the crossbar. Princeton added an insurance goal late in the game when Tracy Hemmingway sprinted some 40 yards with the ball and beat Hermann with a shot into the net.

———

Sophomore Maria Tucker had a big assist in the win. She shadowed Pennington's top player, Heike Schneider, so effectively — stride for stride — that Schneider was never able to get free inside the 18. "It's a thankless job and tough to do," said Beacham, in citing Tucker's play. Another underclassman, freshman goalie Saskia Webber, excelled in front of the net, turning aside 15 shots as she was kept busy because of the absence of three starters in the Little Tiger defensive backfield.

Record Falls Below .500. The Little Tigers were less succesful earlier in the week, as they dropped regular season contests to Hamilton and Ewing to fall below .500 with a 5-7-1 mark.

Hamilton outshot PHS, 40-17, en route to a 5-2 victory on Thursday. Hemmingway and Fiona Little scored for PHS, which might have been the victim of a rout had not the beleagured Webber come up with 32 saves in a magnificent performance.

Earlier, undefeated Ewing shook off Lockwood's first period goal which broke Ewing's 21-period streak of not being scored upon and came back to record a 4-1 victory. Ewing's Judy Kafafut accounted for all four Blue Devil goals, scoring once in every period.

PHS VS. NOTTINGHAM

In Night Soccer Game. In its only "home" night soccer game of the season, the Princeton High boys soccer team will oppose Nottingham Thursday night at 7:30 at Princeton University's Bedford Field.

In other contests, the Little Tigers, which split two matches last week, will host Pennington School Saturday morning at 10:30 and entertain Hopewell Valley Monday at 3:30 at the Valley Road School field.

On Thursday, PHS won its second game of the season when it defeated Hamilton, 3-2. Jamie Womack scored on an assist by Damon Webber and then Webber scored unassisted, both in the second period, to give the Little Tigers a 2-0 halftime lead.

Sophomore Stig Leschly scored the eventual game-winner for PHS in the final period when he converted a corner kick by Dan Shidlovsky. Goalie Mike Hunninghake had 15 saves.

Earlier in the week, the 2-7-1 Little Tigers lost a 1-0 decision to Ewing in overtime. The Blue Devils scored the game's only goal in the first ten-minute overtime on a shot by Vince Harris. The second overtime was scoreless.

The victory was costly for PHS because it lost its co-captain and high scorer Deron Elliott for the rest of the season. Elliott had to undergo reconstructive surgery for a knee injury.

In the game, Elliott had tumbled over a Ewing player while going in for a shot. Five minutes later, recalled PHS coach Becky Mackey, his knee gave way after he had planted his foot and made a slight twist.

The Little Tigers are out of the running for the state competition but Mackey commented, "We hope to win some more before the season is over."

———

GROVER, BURKE WINNERS

In Princeton Soccer League. A pair of goals by Colin Apse and scores by Matthew Curran and Scott Vander Voort led Grover Lumber to a 4-1 victory over Kopp's Cycle last week in the senior division of the Princeton Soccer Association. Josh Dinnerman scored for the losers.

Bruce Burke blanked Stewardson-Dougherty, 4-0, as Alex Hammer scored two goals and Jesse Holstein and Jamie Johnson added single tallies.

Hulit's Shoes shaded Firestone, 2-1, behind goals by Josh Adler and Todd Vander Voort with assists by Albert Raboteau and Vander Voort. Goalie Aaron Cooper excelled for the victors in front of the net.

Michael Scarlata scored for Firestone.

COUNTY CHAMPIONS: The Princeton Day girls' tennis team, coached by Roome Campbell (right) won the Mercer County tournament for the first time earlier this month, because of the fine play of these girls. They are (from left) Jennifer Thurman, Stacey Feldman, Tracy Needle, Liz White, Maya Bermingham, Heidi Puchner, and Rachel Stark.

TWO YARDS TOO SHORT: On this last play of the first half, Jim Jones grabs a 22-yard pass on the Lawrence High two yard line but was tackled short of the goal. Little Tigers fell short throughout the contest in dropping a 21-17 decision to the Cardinals.

Season That Started So Well for Little Tigers Suddenly Has Turned Sour with Lawrence Loss

Ouch! This one hurt. The pain following last week's 21-17 loss to Lawrence was plain to see on the face of Princeton High football coach Bill Cirullo. "This was a very disappointing loss," he confirmed after the game. "We made too many critical mistakes."

All of a sudden, the season which began so promisingly has turned sour. The loss to Lawrence coupled with the previous week's upset by Hamilton may have pushed PHS past the point of no return. There will be no state tournament invitation now and just as likely no league crown.

"It puts a big whole in the schedule," agreed Cirullo. "Three losses is three losses — no matter how you cut the cake."

The 2-3 Little Tigers will try to salvage what's left of the season when they take their road show to Hightstown for a 1:30 contest with the Rams. Hightstown is having more problems than PHS this season: its 21-6 loss to West Windsor last week was its fourth without a win.

Couldn't Handle the Heat. "Mistakes killed us today," said Cirullo after the Lawrence loss. "Some assignments were misread and giving up two touchdowns in the beginning didn't help us, either. Lawrence blocked well; Lawrence always blocks well.

"Once again, we couldn't handle the heat in the interior line. Penalties killed us and pushed us back. I felt we had the offense to win this game. We didn't have the defense.

"All you need to do is give us a couple of seams and we have the backs who can get us yardage," Cirullo continued. "Our line had problems but I am not going to single anyone out. When you win it is a team effort and when you lose it is a team effort."

PHS was able to move the ball consistently, particularly Mike Riddick who returned to his former slashing ways with 118 yards in 20 carries. But the Cardinals had the game's top runner in John Cannon, who rushed for 143 yards and two touchdowns.

There were a number of turning points for PHS in this game that could have gone either way. Both entered the contest all even at 2-2.

PHS was driving and had reached the two-ynrd line when time ran out at the halftime.

Trailing 14-10 at the half, PHS took the second half kickoff and marched down field, reaching a first down on the 25. Riddick carried the ball six times in seven plays. On the next, a reverse handoff from Bosley to Riddick, Riddick never gained complete possession of the ball and Lawrence recovered.

Near the end of the game, with 1:43 left, PHS appeared to have stopped the Cardinals at midfield. Lawrence faced a fourth-and-two but Cardinal Coach Ed Shirk decided to go for it. A pitchback to Cannon resulted in a first down on the PHS 49 and the play sealed the outcome.

Cirullo on the sideline slammed his game-plan clip board to the ground and for the remainder of the game he paced up and down the sideline like a caged animal in sheer frustration.

"He (Shirk) obviously felt he could control the ball," commented Cirullo after the game. "It was a calculated guess and he won."

Cardinals Take 14-0 Lead. Lawrence scored two of its three TDs in the first period. It took the opening kickoff and drove 66 yards in 13 plays, quarterback Todd Brunner hitting Chet Turner with a rollout pass in the corner from eight yards out for the initial score.

After PHS was held in its first series, Lawrence took over on its own 44 and covered the distance in five plays. Off some fancy faking in the backfield, Cannon went over from the 20 with 50 seconds left in the first period.

Aided by some Lawrence penalities, PHS struck right back.

Bosley returned the kickoff to the 40 and the clip on the play moved the ball to the Lawrence 25. A face mask penalty gave PHS a first on the nine from where Riddick went over standing up, holding his hands high on the next play. Not yet, however. A holding penalty erased the TD.

Two plays later, Bosley, running to his left, faking a pass, circled end for a 16-yard payoff run. John Lyons' PAT made it 14-7.

Princeton's intensity blossomed with the score. Forcing another punt, which Jim Jones returned to the PHS 43, the Little Tigers drove again toward the Lawrence goal with Riddick and Bosley and Chris Moseley lugging the ball, Riddick the most. Moseley burst through for eight yards for a first down on the 16 but the attack stalled when PHS was called for an illegal block below the waist. On fourth down, Lyons' field goal attempt from the 23 just cleared the cross bar to bring PHS to 14-10.

Princeton almost scored again at the end of the half, after Keith Webber recovered a Cardinal fumble on the Lawrence 12 with 1:45 left. Quarterback Paul Fisher passed to Jim Laverty for a first down, Bosley ran for another, and Fisher, in his best passing performance of the season, hit Billy Scott for another first to the 25.

With no time outs left, Fisher rifled a pass to the side line to stop the clock but PHS was called for intentional grounding, a call that infuriated Cirullo.

After a pass to Jones was incomplete, a pass with one second left to Laverty was also batted away but PHS got one more chance when Lawrence was whistled for holding.

With no time on the clock, Fisher connected with Jones who caught the 22-yard aerial on the two and tried — unsuccessfully — to spin away from the defending tackle of Joe Fasanella and fall into the end zone.

Lawrence took the second half kickoff and drove 73 yards in 14 plays, Cannon going over from the seven. As the front four of the PHD defensive line came off the field, Cirullo slapped the helmet of each and said, "One, two, three, four. There's the ball game. Now wake up."

PHS scored on a 50-yard drive in the final period, highlighted by passes from Fisher to Jones and Bosley.

Riddich then took a handoff from the three and jumped over the Lawrence line. Stopped, he twisted away coming down and fell over the goal line. "That," said the head linesman watching the play, "was the best second effort in high school I ever saw in my life."

Unfortunately, PHS needed a couple more of those this day.

PHS STUMBLES TWICE

In Tennis. The Princeton High School girls tennis team stumbled twice last week when it lost its second and third matches of the season.

Both were costly, as one eliminated PHS from the annual NJSIAA state competition and the other was Princeton's first setback in the CVC League competition.

PHS, the defending Central Jersey Group 3 champions, was eliminated last week in the opening round by Voorhees, 3-2. All three losses this year have been by a 3-2 margin.

Saying that his number one doubles has let him down, PHS coach Bill Humes reported PHS lost not only the first doubles but the first and third singles matches in bowing to Voorhees.

On Friday, West Windsor atoned for an earlier 3-2 loss to Princeton, with a 3-2 victory of it's own.

The 9-3 Pirates are now tied with the 8-3 Little Tigers in league competition.

Sara Pickens won her third doubles of Barbara Goida and Elizabeth Ignat continued to win for Princeton's only points against WW.

Pickens prevailed for a hard-fought, 7-5, 3-6, 7-6 victory over Wendy Grover, while Goida-Ignat won easily, 6-2, 6-2.

In singles competition, Princeton's number one player, Cindy Bailey, was defeated by Dolly Chugh, 6-4, 6-3, and Gail Ellis was blanked, 6-0, 6-0, in the second singles by WW's Louise Martin.

The Little Tigers' first doubles of Lulu Bradford and Kathy Smith lost, 6-1, 6-4, to Jen Aliman and Karen Vestergarden.

Earlier in the week, Humes gave some of his second-line players a chance to play in a 5-0 victory over Hamilton, which lost its tenth match in eleven starts.

Ignat, Goida and Sharon Johnson all won in straight sets in singles play. Rebecca Carchman and Mariana Mazzucho breezed, 6-0, 6-0, in the first doubles, and Susan Crystal and Kimiia Farmanformaina triumphed, 6-0, 6-2, in the second doubles.

MONDAY SPORTS

PHS 2, Opponents 3. Both soccer teams and the field hockey team of Princeton High lost but the tennis and cross country teams won in athletic contests Monday.

The PHS girls soccer team bowed, 8-2, to Notre Dame, the team it will play Saturday in the semifinal round of the Mercer County Tournament The Irish jumped to a 3-0 lead and were in command throughout in winning their tenth game in 11 starts. PHS coach Ed Beacham fielded a revamped lineup which included goalie Saskia Webber on the field. Booie Lockwood scored for PHS in the second period and Webber scored her first in the final one.

The loss prevented the 5-7-1 Little Tigers from reaching the required .500 level by Friday to qualify for the state tournament.

Notre Dame earned a berth in the state tourney with a 7-2 victory over the PHS boys soccer team. Seven players scored for the Irish, starting with Dean Good, who found the net 46 seconds into the match. Princeton's Whit Thompson scored the game's final goal as PHS dropped to 2-8-1.

Field Hockey Team Blanked. There was more bad news for the PHS field hockey team which has had trouble scoring. The Little Tigers were blanked again for the second time in a row by Notre Dame, 1-0.

Jennifer Goeke's goal at the 8:15 mark in the second half was the game's lone goal and raised the victors' record to 10-1. PHS fell to 5-5-1 with the loss.

In tennis, PHS edged Notre Dame, 3-2, as it won two singles and the second doubles.

Cindy Bailey triumped, 6-0, 0-6, 6-3, and Sara Pickens 6-2, 7-5, in singles play and Barbara Goida and Elizabeth Ignat clinched the match with a 6-4, 6-2 doubles win. It was Princeton's ninth win against three losses.

X-Country Still Perfect. The PHS boys cross country team remained undefeated (9-0) with an easy 18-41 victory over Nottingham. Nathaniel McVey-Finney, Andrew Fernandez and Sean Nyhan finished 1-2-3 over Nottingham's 3.1 mile course, McVey-Finney posting gram), she states, adding that the program is not over. She likes the process of "getting people excited" about Princeton and what it ought to look like years hence and hopes to serve on a committee on the future of Princeton that is one of the GMIP recommendations.

She is also enthusiastic about her role on the Historic Sites Committee that will be recommending an historic sites ordinance for the Township that is comparable or compatible with the Borough ordinance.

Campaign Tactics. Mrs. Cantrill says she was "really hurt" by a campaign newspaper advertisement for her opponent which listed a number of votes on which she abstained She speaks of her 97 percent attendance record at Township Committee in each of the past two years.

Mrs. Cantrill says she "tends to run a positive campaign," but thus far it has been a remarkably "low profile" one, with but a single one-page letter to Township voters in evidence at campaign headquarters last week. In it she cites Mount Laurel and historic sites as the planning issues she has worked on during her tenure. She closes by noting that she has "enjoyed the challenge of representing Princeton, surely one of the most demanding constituencies in the country," and asks for support to serve three more years.

For her part, Mrs. Wojciechowicz says she has met with the Township Administrator and Police Chief, the Recreation Director and Sewer Operating Committee Manager in preparation for becoming a Township Committee member. "I learned a lot!" she says, admitting candidly that she had a lot to learn. The Wojciechowicz campaign has researched the voting record of her opponent from minutes and tapes kept by the Township clerk over the past three years.

It also has capitalized on her last name in an attempt to make a name that is difficult to spell and pronounce a "household word" through simplified phonics.

Public Service. Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund recently described the work of a municipal office-holder as "the ultimate volunteer public service." Both Township candidates would agree on the aptness of the term. Mrs. Cantrill talks repeatedly of the importance of setting goals and trying to meet them — not only at the Township Committee level but by the chairs of each municipal committee or commission. She describes herself as a pragmatist and one who enjoys the process of getting something accomplished.

Mrs. Wojciechowicz believes that her experience running the Hospital Fete taught her a great deal about not only this community but communities in the surrounding area. She also feels that her experience in different volunteer jobs has given her an ability to get people to work together. She pledges that she will attend all meetings, because she believes "if you take a job you should fulfill it."

a winning time of 15:32. Fernandez was 10 seconds behind.

Princeton's biggest win occurred earlier in the week when it defeated previously unbeaten Trenton. Both teams finished even at 28-28 after the first ten places but PHS was awarded the win on the sixth place finish of Darieush Moghanaki.

———

Trenton's Tim Blake set a new course record of 15:58 over Princeton's 3.1 mile course and the Tornadoes' Paul Jones came in second, but PHS picked up points by taking the third, fourth, sixth and seventh finishes. McVey-Finney finished third with a time of 16:54.

PHS also routed Lawrence 16-47 in the tri-meet.

The Little Tigers will next oppose Ewing on Monday at the Washington Crossing course.

The PHS girls kept their record unblemished at 5-0. by defeating Trenton, 15-50, and Lawrence, 20-36, on the same day.

HUN VS. EWING

In County Semifinal Match. It's not how many shots you have but how many go into the goal. Ask the Hun School soccer team.

Outshot 35 to 8, Hun made two of them good to defeat Notre Dame, 2-0, last week in action in the Mercer County Tournament and thus advance to the semifinal round.

Seeded fourth, Hun will meet ninth-seeded Ewing at 5:30 at Mercer Park. Ewing, the surprise team in the tournament, has a 6-7 record and advanced by upsetting West Windsor, 1-0. Hun is 10-2-1.

In the other semi-final, second-seeded Hightstown will oppose sixth-seeded Nottingham at 3:30.

Two bang-bang goals by Hun in the second period shocked the Irish. With 5:26 left, senior Rick Brenner blasted a shot past ND goalie Bob Hageman. A minute later, Brenner rolled a cross into the right corner to Deonte Monyoukaye, Hun's sophomre scoring leader, who connected for his 19th goal of the season.

Hun coach Dave Potter then called on Monyoukaye's versatile skills by shifting him to the backfield where his ability to control the ball helped stifle the Irish the rest of the way.

"Getting the first goal was a real confidence booster," said Potter who reported his team plays better when it has the lead.

He moved Monyoukaye back on defense in the second half, he added, because "he isn't afraid to mix it up." Monyoukaye's agressiveness is one of the main reasons why Hun is a more dangerous team this season, commented Potter.

———

When the frustrated Irish did manage to get a shot off, Hun goalie Ed Belmont, was there to stop it, registering 22 saves.

ND coach Mike Perone wondered aloud what his team had to do to win. "There is nothing more we can do to win a game than what we did today," he said. The loss left the Irish even at 4-4-3.

Three days earlier, Hun may have been looking ahead to its tournament game when it allowed George School, which had won only once, to walk off the field with a 2-2 tie.

Monyoukaye scored both goals for Hun.

WIN GUARANTEED

By Hun Football Coach. "Next week will be a win. I guarantee that," said Hun football coach Bill Quirk, after his team, crippled with injuries and error-prone, was blanked, 21-0, by Blair Academy last week.

Quirk's extreme optimism about Saturday's upcoming game with Peddie is based on the Falcons not having won a game this season. "To my knowledge, they haven't even scored a point," Quirk added.

The contest will be played on the Peddie gridiron in Hightstown, starting at 2.

Quirk went into the game with Blair Academy last week, feeling Hun had a good chance of winning. But too many mistakes, a problem that Hun has not been able to overcome this year, and a new dimension — injuries to two starters — combined to bring Hun down. "We never fumbled as much as we did against Blair," reported Quirk.

———

In the second period, he lost his leading ground gainer, Nick Miller (36 yards in four carries) for the rest of the game with an ankle injury. Five plays into the game, the sophomore backup center, Rob Siegel, broke his right arm and will be out the rest of the season. Siegel had been subbing for starter Crosby Beane, who is sidelined with mononucleosis.

"When I look down our roster right now, we have ten kids hurt who go one way or the other for us — and we don't have a lot of depth to begin with," sighed Quirk.

The loss of Siegel forced him to move Brian Flynn from guard to center. Three bad snaps — in the game which included two blocked punts that gave Blair good field position — did not help Hun's chances.

"I can't blame the snaps," said Quirk. "It's certainly a lot different in a game than it is in practice. I'm just glad for the job Flynn was able to do for us under the circumstances. He probably snapped the ball for us no more than five times in practice."

In the first period, Blair scored the only TD it would need when it recovered a bad snap inside the Hun 10 and went over in three plays. The 2-2 visitors added a second TD on a one-yard run and their third on a 21-yard pass interception in the second half.

For its part, Hun, hobbled by fumbles, never was able to penetrate past midfield. It was held to 79 yards rushing and 67 passing as quarterback Bob Salasko completed four of 15 aerials and had two intercepted.

Sophomore running back Bill Menzel led the Blair rushing attack with 101 yards in 23 carries.
